Cruvina, providers of shatterproof plastic glassware, announces that their cocktail tumblers are great for camping.

Erin Moore, Co-Founder of Cruvina, shares, "Many of us enjoy camping in the Great Outdoors. It is a wonderful way of reconnecting with Nature, our families and ourselves. Sometimes, after an exhilarating day of hiking, canoeing or some other physical activity, it's nice to sit by the fire and enjoy a cocktail. That's where our Cruvina cocktail tumblers come into play."

Cruvina cocktail glasses are made out of clear Tritan plastic, a high-quality, food-grade, BPA-free polymer. This plastic is light and strong and has been shown to resist scratching and breaking, even when put in the top rack of the dishwasher or dropped from table-height. The glasses have been designed with anti-tipping technology. This helps prevent them from tipping over and spilling or even breaking. So there will be less mess to clean up. The classic shape and spill-guard rim make it comfortable to hold and drink from these glasses.

These features make the glasses ideal for camping. They can be easily and safely transported in backpacks or in the cabinets of campers. When it is time to drink, they enhance the experience with their beautiful design. And they are versatile, so that any kind of drink - from water and soda to cocktails and wine - can be served in them. Then they clean up quickly and neatly. Better still, they retain their clarity and shine after repeated use so that they won't need to be replaced. This makes them attractive and cost-efficient.

Says Ms. Moore, "Traditionally camping has been associated with 'roughing it'. But this is no longer true for all of us. We can enjoy the finer things in life as we commune with Nature, making the experience even more special."

Each box comes with four 14-ounce glasses. Cruvina cocktail tumblers are available on Amazon and come with a 30-day money-back guarantee.
