

Cruvina Shatterproof Plastic Wine Glasses Look Like Real Glass

April 03, 2018

April 03, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cruvina, providers of shatterproof plastic glasses, announces that their wine glasses look like real glass.

Co-Founder Erin Moore says "A beautiful lead crystal glass that feels good in your hand can enhance the wine drinking experience. But there are times when it is better to drink out of a plastic glass. Especially if one wishes to avoid shards. One of our goals in developing our line of plastic drinkware is to provide high-quality products so that our customers can have the convenience and safety of plastic but still experience the aesthetics of real glass.?"

The Cruvina Wine Glass Set consists of four 13-ounce, stemless glasses made of Tritan plastic, a high-quality, food-grade, BPA-free polymer made by Eastman. This plastic was specially developed to be scratch-resistant, odor-resistant and shatterproof. The glasses retain their clarity and shine through repeated use and can stand up to being washed in the top rack of the dishwasher. The glasses have the feel and appearance of real glass.

The glasses are also designed with anti-tipping technology and a comfort spill-guard rim, so the risk of party mishaps or broken glass is reduced. This allows for stress-free entertaining in any setting, from a formal dinner party to an afternoon bar-b-que by the pool. These glasses are lightweight and strong enough to be used by children as well.

Cruvina customers are very pleased with the quality of the glasses. Here is what one had to say:

"These unbreakable wine glasses are beautiful. I had been searching for something like these for a while. When I first got them, my husband thought they were glass because they were such a good replica. I love that they are plastic so I won't break them."

The Cruvina Wine Glass Set is available on Amazon and comes with a 30-day money-back guarantee.
