Adam elements, a company focused on combining everyday utility with aesthetics and smart electronic products, is now offering the smallest 5-in-1 travel adapter, OMNIA TA502. The compact adapter provides connections in over 150 countries by simply sliding and locking the proper plug into place.

The OMNIA travel adapter and converter consists of two USB ports that connect the world's most famous devices, a socket, UK prongs, EU prongs, and US/AU prongs. The prongs on the adapter can be easily extended or retracted with just one move by using the unique press-and-slide controls on their respective sides. In addition, users will be able to see two small LED lights that showcase the charging status of their devices.

The smart travel adapter has a BC1.2 technology installed which auto detects the required maximum amperage needed to power up all iOS, Android, Windows, DJI Drones and GoPros. Furthermore, OMNIA TA502 has a built-in safety fuse that protects users devices from any damages caused by unpredictable over-current.

“We wanted to create a travel adapter that can offer users great design and practicality,” an Adam spokesperson said. “The frame possess rounded ridges that help users get a better hand grip when sliding and locking the desired prongs.” The OMNIA is presented in 4 color combinations and is now available on amazon.com.
