Clean Group Sydney Offers NDIS Cleaning to Help Disabled People Remain Healthy

November 08, 2021

SYDNEY, NSW - November 08, 2021 -
Clean Group Sydney is happy to announce that they are capable of providing National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) cleaning services with the goal of helping disabled people have thoroughly clean homes to ensure that they lead safe and healthy lives. This is done through regular cleaning and maintenance of the residences of the disabled. They offer comprehensive NDIS cleaning, which is made up of general home cleaning, carpet steam cleaning, garden cleaning, laundry cleaning, end of lease cleaning, and decluttering services.

General home cleaning is done regularly to make sure that the disabled and their family have a clean and safe living space. Those who don?t have the time or unable to clean their homes properly can take advantage of the affordable and efficient basic home cleaning services. Carpet steam cleaning is also important because carpets usually accumulate a lot of dirt, dust, germs, stains, and hair over time. Depending on the specific needs of clients, they provide steam cleaning of carpets based on a certain schedule. Garden cleaning is also an important service because people with a disability often find it hard to properly care for their plants and gardens.

Laundry cleaning is another key component of NDIS cleaning services. Clean Group Sydney professionals will machine wash clients clothes, blankets, sheets, blinds, at regular intervals. And for those who are planning to move in to a new home, they can perform the cleaning for the newly leased home. They have experienced end of lease cleaners who know just what is required in a new home. And finally, they can offer decluttering services for the kitchen, library, living rooms, bathrooms, and more.

?We are a trusted and reputable cleaning agency committed to assisting NDIS participants and disabled persons throughout the country with effective home cleaning and management services,? says Stephen Matthews, commercial cleaning manager at Clean Group Sydney. ?While many cleaning agencies that claim to offer NDIS cleaners Sydney services do not have a valid certification, Clean Group is a highly trusted NDIS registered provider that has been providing time-sensitive and affordable cleaning to participants for over 20 years now. We offer our cleaning services in most suburbs of Sydney.?

There are many reasons why the NDIS cleaning services offered by Clean Group Sydney can be considered one of the best in Sydney and surrounding areas. First of all is the assurance that they are a NDIS registered provider with a commitment towards offering high quality cleaning of homes and offices, and gardening services for NDIS clients. Second, NDIS clients are assured that their cleaning service fees are reasonable and can easily fit into everyone?s budget. Third, they always make sure that the cleaning services provided are custom-fitted to the specific needs of their client. Fourth, they have a team of highly experienced and trained NDIS cleaners who have been ensured to be properly insured and police-verified. Fifth, they offer value for money because they are committed to ensuring the safety and protection of clients through the provision of certified cleaning services. And finally, it is easy to book their services either by calling them on the phone by sending them a request through their website.
