"When a medical professional provides less than standard service or worse causes injury, the patient should be aware they have legal rights to seek justice. Our experienced medical malpractice lawyers have respresented injured patients across the community for years. We understand the emotional, physical and financial stress medical negligence can cause a victim and their family. Our goal is to help the patient file a claim to get the maximum compensation they are owed to help reduce some of that stress," stated Gabriel A. DiLeonardo, Sr., Esq. the firm's managing attorney.

The Union City medical malpractice lawyers not only handle medical negligence but many other types of personal injury cases, such as automobile accidents, workplace injuries, train derailments, dog bites, slip and fall injuries, and many more.

"Our lawyers know how critical financial recovery is to injured victims. Compensation is needed to pay the additional medical expenses and even to cover lost income. Our team is committed to helping each victim receive justice from the negligence of a medical professional," stated Gabriel A. DiLeonardo, Sr., Esq.
