October 01, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Fitness Bags Canada, a company based in North Bay, Ontario, has announced a new product launch. The company states that their Fitmark Core bag is now available on their official website and says that the bag offers a number of organization benefits for the healthy minded.

John Messenger, a spokesperson for the Canada based fitness company says, "We are pleased to announce the launch of this newest bag in our collection. All of our fitness bags are designed with our customers in mind, to help you to live your healthiest and happiest lifestyle."

The company offers a number of meal prep bags through their official website and the Amazon Canada marketplace. These fitness bags allow users to manage their food for the day. This latest bag, the Core, is a food organizing bag that is lightweight and portable. It features tough nylon material and a heavy duty carrying strap. The company states that it allows users to easily organize their meals with its three 32 ounce seal tight containers, two ice packs, a custom vitamin and protein mix organizer, that are all included. The Core also includes exterior sleeves that can hold sports bottles, zipper pocket for keys and other necessities, and a slip pocket in the back for a workout journal.

"It is literally everything that you need for a great workout or just to take along with you throughout the day to keep yourself on track," says Messenger. "All of our bags are high quality and have features and functions that make it so much easier to meet your fitness and healthy lifestyle goals."

The company offers Fitmark bags Canada residents need that fall into a number of different categories. They state that the Core is BPA free and microwave and dishwasher safe. It measures 10 inches by 6.5 inches by 10 inches and has a holding capacity of approximately 650 cubic inches. The fabric is water repellent and easy to clean according to the company.

Fitmark was founded in Canada in 2011 to provide essentials to those looking to live healthier lifestyles. The company states that all of their bags give users everything that they need to keep organized and to reach their ultimate fitness goals. They state that they have bags that will fit into any budget. Their products include backpacks, totes, duffels and other accessories and the company has gained a number of positive reviews since their inception. They regularly release new products that offer ways to organize meals for those who are dedicated to working out and staying fit.

Fitmark backpacks offer features that can help to keep users organized including a plethora of pockets for all necessities. The company states that their backpacks are comfortable to carry and are durable. They also provide a wide range of diet and meal management bags, such as the Core, that are designed to help keep foods organized and to make it easier for customers to meet their nutrition goals. The bags feature sturdy design, easy to clean containers and freezer packs that are needed to keep foods cold and safe while transporting. The company states that many customers use their diet and meal management bags to take along lunches to work to help ensure that they stay on track with their healthy eating. Messenger says that the bags are highly popular among customers who are following specific eating programs such as paleo or keto diets.

Fitmark also provides a number of workout bags to help carry important workout necessities as well as various sports bags that they state are highly popular and versatile. Those interested in learning more about the bags or in learning about their functionality and usefulness can visit the company on their official website or their Instagram page and read through the various reviews from their past and current customers.

Fitmark says that any consumer who is looking to get more organized and to optimize their workouts should visit them online. They offer a number of bags that are designed for the fitness minded but that can also be used by just about anyone. Messenger says that while their bags are designed with fitness enthusiasts in mind, they have heard from customers such as mothers of young children who claim their bags are also good for carrying snacks and necessities for toddlers and infants. Those interested can visit the Fitmark website to see the new Core bag and what it offers or to take a look at any of the bags and products that the company has available.
