

Plumbers Tallahassee FL Company Announces Emergency Services

October 12, 2018

October 12, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mr. Rooter in Tallahassee, Florida, has announced their new line of emergency services for those in and around Tallahassee. The company states that they understand that most plumbing issues do not happen during the day and because of this, they offer a full range of emergency services for nights, weekends and holidays.

Holly Tillman, a representative for the plumbers Tallahassee FL company, says, "You don't get to schedule your plumbing problems around a nine to five job. You may wake up in the middle of the night hearing water running under your home or find that your tub is leaking early in the morning on a Saturday. When those situations arise, our skilled and professional team will be there to help you."

Tillman says that the Tallahassee plumbing company offers emergency repairs from licensed and insured plumbing experts. She says that the company fully understands the frustrations of having a leaky pipe or other plumbing issue and states that they never charge overtime fees and offer complete customer satisfaction to ensure that their customers come back to them everytime they need a plumber.

"We want you to be a customer for life," Tillman states. "So not only do we offer around the clock plumbing emergency services, we also ensure that you are going to be completely satisfied with those services with our guarantee. And, we let you know upfront what your charges will be. We provide flat rate pricing so you are never surprised when you receive your bill."

The company has been offering plumbing Tallahassee FL residents have relied on for several years and says that they are pleased to be able to help their customers whenever those plumbing issues arise, whether it be at noon on a weekday or at midnight on Christmas Eve. They state that they are a locally owned and operated company with a team of experts in plumbing for commercial and residential buildings.

The team states that they can handle any plumbing emergency that may arise whether it be a leaky pipe underneath a two bedroom cottage or a broken water main line in a large commercial structure. The company states that all of their technicians are highly trained and educated in the plumbing field to ensure that they can handle any type of emergency plumbing situation that may arise.

The company, which can be seen at <https://www.mrrooter.com/tallahassee/>, also states that their technicians can provide customers with an onsite quote for the cost of the project as well as the time it will take to solve the issue. Technicians arrive fully stocked and prepared to handle any plumbing emergency including burst pipe, flooding, severe clogs, and more. The company states that they can also assist customers with water, hail and fire damage by offering restoration services that include carpet cleaning, mold abatement and more. In addition to their emergency plumbing services, the Tallahassee company also provides cost effective maintenance programs for residential and commercial customers that help to keep plumbing systems up to date and operating properly.

David Duck began the company that is now known as Mr. Rooter in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma in 1970. The company grew over the years by earning itself a stellar reputation for good work at fair prices. Don Dwyer, the founder of The Dwyer Group convinced Mr. Duck to take his business nationwide after just a few years. Mr. Rooter Plumbing was sold to The Dwyer Group in 1989, but Mr. Duck retained ownership of the original Mr. Rooter Plumbing in Oklahoma. The company has since grown into a nationwide plumbing company with offices in various locations around the United States. They state that their fairness to customers and their general compassion for plumbing issues is what has kept them in business for more than 40 years and what will continue them in the business for decades to come.

The company says that they understand the headache of a plumbing emergency and say that they take things one step further to help eliminate that headache by offering around the clock services and a team that treats every job with consideration and respect. The company states that technicians clean up their own messes and offer fair assessments of the emergency situation to avoid adding even more stress to a stressful situation.
