

Hope365 Announces Help For Hurricane Florence Victims

October 18, 2018

October 18, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Just a few weeks after Hurricane Florence slammed into the Carolinas, food banks are still struggling to meet the needs of the hurricane's victims. Food banks have reported that there are still people displaced in more than 30 counties throughout North and South Carolina and many areas still have downed trees, flooding and sporadic power outages.

Food, water and other supplies are consistently being sent to the Carolinas in an effort to help with these needs. One food bank recently stated that they are accepting monetary donations and donations of various food and supplies including high protein canned meals such as ravioli and soups, paper goods, hygiene products, baby necessities, snacks and more. HOPE365 has announced plans to assist these communities.

A representative for the business recently stated, "Hope365 is a full spectrum community giveback platform. Through our network of athletes and community influencers HOPE365 raises funds by offering everything from design, product creation, fulfillment and marketing to fully servicing the community campaign.?"

The company states that all profits raised are donated to the client's organization or charity of their choice.

Right now, Hope365 has a campaign running where they are raising funds for the flood victims of hurricane Florence for North and South Carolina. Hope365 has already donated $1,000 to the Red Cross and is on track to give even more to the Harvest Hope Food Bank of South Carolina and Food Bank of Central, Eastern and North Carolina.

"Right now we are offering Popup Cell Phone Grips for just a dollar and that whole dollar will be donated to the food banks," says the company representative. "Please go to this website to get your Popup phone grip and help the Food Banks out today." The website mentioned can reach at <https://www.hope365.co/collections/carolina-strong-food-bank>.

The representative for Hope365 states that they have a team that is located throughout the United States and in Canada, as well as in other countries around the world. They state that they are dedicated to ensuring that their customers are completely satisfied with their entire experience when they shop at Hope365. The company states that those who would like to help them to make a difference in the lives of those who have been affected by Hurricane Florence can do so by visiting them online at <https://hope365.info/carolina-strong-food-bank>.

Hope365 sells products that they state are designed for their customers. The company representative states that from the moment customers enter their website until they receive their product, they want their experience to be a positive one. The company states that their mission is to provide customers with the very best products and customer service available. They give back to various organizations through their Brand Ambassadors and their Give Back Program helps them to feel like more than just a business. The company states that their B Corporation certification is currently pending. More on Hope365 and the help that they offer to those in need can be seen on their official Facebook page at <http://bit.ly/HOPE365-Facebook>. The company states that those who would like to stay up to date on any new happenings within the company can follow them on Facebook and also read through reviews from other customers regarding the products that they have purchased.

B lab certification is a third party standard that requires companies to meet certain social sustainability and environmental performance standards, as well as accountability standards. Companies that are granted this certification are also required to be transparent to the public regarding this certification and the score that they receive. B lab certification applies to the entire company, regardless of the products that they sell or the number of franchise or service areas they may have.

Hope365 offers a number of consumer products including tote bags, jewelry, clothing, shot glasses and more, all of which bear the sentiment of "Carolina Strong." The company states that all of the products that they sell are made with only the highest quality of materials and are designed to last for many years. The company states that they make excellent gifts, as well for anyone who wants to help the food banks in the Carolinas to feed those who have been affected by Hurricane Florence.

Those who are interested can learn more about the company and the products that they offer by visiting them on their official website. Those interested in learning more about the victims of Hurricane Florence or other ways that they can help can visit the Red Cross on their official website or any of the food banks or other charitable organizations located in the Carolinas.

###

For more information about HOPE365, contact the company here:HOPE365HOPE3659082302974Greg@hope365.co10908 Courthouse Road

HOPE365

Hope365 is a full spectrum community giveback platform. Offering everything from design, product creation, fulfillment and marketing to fully servicing the community fundraising campaign.

Website: <https://www.hope365.co/>

Email: Greg@hope365.co

Phone: 9082302974

Powered by PressAdvantage.com