October 30, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Telus/Cambridge Electronics Incorporated is pleased to announce that the telecommunications company's Rewards program is now available for Mobile and Home customers who have a linked TELUS Home Internet and a post-paid mobility account. The electronics and gadget store in Alberta is located at 105-8701 94 St., Fort Saskatchewan, and is proud to offer the Rewards program to its customers.

The Rewards program is a free loyalty program that allows members to earn points that can be redeemed towards items in the rewards catalog. It provides initial and ongoing rewards for customers based on their length of time with the company and their monthly spending. Mobile and Home customers are now eligible for the Rewards Program if they have a linked TELUS Home Internet and a post-paid TELUS mobility account. Customers who are not sure if their TELUS Mobility account is consolidated to their Home Services account can call 1-888-811-2323.

Dan LHeureux from the Telus/Cambridge Electronics store says that new and existing Mobile and Home customers that fit the eligibility requirements will be automatically enrolled in the Rewards program as they become eligible and they can immediately start earning points. To redeem their points in the Rewards portal customers must activate their Rewards account once they receive an email invitation from TELUS or by looking for the TELUS Rewards banner in their My TELUS account page or by visiting the website at telus.com/rewards.

Customers will be receiving an activation email that will inform them of both their enrollment details and instructions to log into My TELUS to activate their account. These emails will be sent out within 1 week of enrollment. To be eligible for the rewards program, customers and employees alike must have an address based in Alberta or British Columbia and have either a TELUS Internet plus a linked postpaid TELUS Mobility account or a minimum of 3 eligible TELUS services. Eligible services include Home Phone, Internet, Optik TV, Satellite TV, SmartHome Security and Linked, post-paid TELUS mobility. Corporate accounts are not eligible.

In order to redeem points a customer's account must be active and should not be in treatment, suspended, canceled or closed status. They must log into the Rewards portal and accept the program Terms and Conditions in order to redeem their points. Earned points can be redeemed from an online catalog of products which customers access via their TELUS Rewards account.

It is clear that signing up and being a TELUS customer is even more rewarding now with the TELUS Rewards program. It's easy to earn points for every dollar you spend with TELUS and the redeemed points can be used for free movies, bill credits, charitable donations, and much more from the TELUS Rewards online catalogue at telus.com/rewards.

Dan LHeureux says, "We are proud to serve Canada's largest and fastest network and we are excited about offering the rewards program to customers in Alberta and British Columbia." Dan believes that valued customers will gladly redeem their points for exclusive rewards that they will love. It is believed that this rewards program will keep TELUS on top of the telecommunications industry in Canada.

The telecommunications company, indeed, has received many positive comments from customers. A customer said in a review of TELUS on Trustpilot.com that he is very pleased and will recommend it to all his friends. Another reviewer on Trustpilot.com says she has been with TELUS since 2007 and has been happy with them all this time. She goes on to tell the company to keep up the great customer service and after hearing some of the issues other providers have she thinks TELUS is number one. A customer said in a review on Facebook that she is one happy camper and thanked the company for its services.

According to an article on Worldatlas.com, TELUS is the second largest telecom company in Canada with 8,600,000 subscribers in 2016. They have gradually risen to become a major player in the Canadian telecom industry. Canada Telecommunications says that TELUS is among the top most popular telecom companies in Canada. Dan says that the TELUS Rewards program is just another example of their innovation in the industry and a contributor to the telecom company's success.

More information about the Rewards program can be found at the program's official website at telus.com/rewards. Or people can visit telus.com to get general information about TELUS.
