Villa Park, IL based Chicagoland Fireplace and Chimney Restoration would like to reach out to homeowners in the area who may be in search of a reliable chimney repair and cleaning service. The company provides a variety of services aimed at keeping their customers? chimneys in excellent working condition. One of their most sought after services is chimney repair, and the company is well known among residents for maintaining an excellent standard of customer service.

Chimneys are meant to remove dangerous gasses and smoke from the house, and thus they are a very important part of any property. Damaged chimneys can lead to carbon monoxide poisoning, house fires, smoky fireplaces or any of a number of other issues. This is why chimney repairs are usually better left to professionals. Chicagoland Fireplace and Chimney Restoration has the tools and expertise to repair every part of the chimney. Some of the parts of the chimney that might have issues include the chimney cap (which is the cap on top of the chimney), the firebox or fireplace (which is where the fire is built) and the smoke chamber (which serves as the support for the flue lining).

The company also helps with other chimney issues. They say, ?There are a number of reasons why you might consider hearth repair or replacement. A damaged hearth can be quite dangerous to your house if left in disrepair; therefore, it is in your best interest to repair the issue when you find it. Often, you will see a problem by the way the chimney ports (or does not), or with water seepage from a flow in the masonry work. In both situations, if the problem has been going on long enough that it?s showing symptoms, you should get it repaired immediately. There are a number of methods to repair it, and our professionals understand just what to do.?

Chicagoland Chimney Repair & Restoration has been in the chimney business since 1996, and this means that they know each and every one of the neighborhoods they serve inside and out. The company is an essential part of the community and they participate in the local customs, traditions and history of the areas they serve. They provide their customers with the best possible service and pride themselves on doing their jobs exceptionally well. This is why they have such an extensive customer base and why much of their business comes from referrals from other customers.

Over the years, the company has earned a reputation for bringing extensive knowledge and experience to each and every project they perform for their customers. They strive to give their customers multiple options, be it a complete fireplace restoration during an extensive remodel or a simple chimney sweep to eliminate a fire hazard. This gives the company?s customers more control over what they get for the money they spend.

The company makes it a point to use only the most advanced techniques and technology to get a job done right the first time. Chicagoland Fireplace and Chimney Restoration says, ?Some of our competitors rush in, complete a job and leave as quickly as they came. We are different. We spend extra time with our customers to ensure they know how to operate their fireplace in a safe and efficient manner. We also spend the time to get to know our customers and their families personally so we can better determine what their needs actually are. We never want to ?sell? a customer a product or service they do not need. We prefer to determine what they actually want and need and then make sure we provide the highest quality version of this. Our technicians have been certified by the Chimney Safety Institute of America. Perhaps more importantly, our technicians have extensive field experience. No matter what issue or problem you may have, chances are they have encountered something very similar many times before. Therefore, they will know how to solve it!?

The company?s top priorities are safety and customer satisfaction, and a customer can always be sure they are getting the best service possible when they work with Chicagoland Fireplace and Chimney Restoration. Those interested may find out more about their chimney services online or by contacting the team directly.
