Phoenix, AZ ?When it comes to finding information not all explainer videos are not created with the best interest of the accident victim in mind. Many video creators tend to include as much broad information as possible to cater to anyone who could possibly encounter their site. www.phoenixcaraccident.com, a group of like-minded chiropractors, medical doctors and lawyers based in Phoenix, AZ, who provide services to those who have been injured in a car and motorcycle accident, recently released a fun and educational video using life like puppets to enhance the viewer experience as well as provide more in depth material and information catered specifically towards accident victims who may need their services. Car accidents are a serious fact of life especially in metropolises like Phoenix Arizona.

?When you watch our video, we realize that you're most likely doing so because you've been injured in a motor vehicle accident and you're trying to figure out what to do next,? said Dr. John Quackenbush, Phoenix accident and injury chiropractor the lead chiropractor at Phoenixcaraccident.com. ?We wanted to style our video series specifically to these accident victims to help answer questions we most commonly received from our practice. We also made sure to include what to do and what not to do in certain situations, as well as specifics to the services we provide and the injuries we treat.? But we did it in a very entertaining way for the young and the young at heart.

Dr. Quackenbush added that because their practice caters specifically to auto accident victims, it was crucial to revamp their video series in order to offer those injured in accidents information regarding their injuries. Another thing that makes their video series unique is anyone who is not found at-fault for the accident that caused their injuries will not have to worry about out of pocket costs. This is because the clinic will bill the at-fault person's insurance and simply wait for the payment, rather than charging the patient or their own insurance. The clinic also works closely with attorneys in order to take care of these costs and handle all paperwork.

The new and improved consortium of compatible doctors and attorney puppets answers a number of frequently asked questions regarding accident injuries. For example, the YouTube video explains that even if a car only sustained minor damage during an accident the victim can still be seriously injured. Studies have shown that damage to your neck and back can create scar tissue in as little as three days. When you visit the doctors and lawyers you have everything you will need legally and medically concerning your phoenix car accident injuries.

The phoenix car accident organization, originally created by Dr. John Quackenbush and Dr. Trever Penny, who treat a number of conditions and personal injuries, including headaches, closed head injury, neck pain and whiplash, lower back pain and elbow and knee pain.
