

Roofing Contractor Announces New Services In Columbia Heights

December 04, 2018

December 04, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Versatile Roofing Pros has announced that they are now offering services in Columbia Heights, Minnesota. The roofing contractor has more than 20 years of service offering quality roofing installation, repairs, and replacements throughout Minnesota and recently announced that those services are now available to home and business owners in Columbia Heights and the surrounding cities.

Sam Johnson, a representative for the company says, "We are proud to be offering our quality roofing services to people in Columbia Heights. Our goal has always been to give our customers the best workmanship, the highest quality of products, and the friendliest customer service in the industry and that will not change as we venture into new locations."

Johnson says that winter is the perfect time to have a roof inspected to ensure that there will be no issues during the colder months of the year. Roof leaks not only cause damage to the roof itself but can also damage the interior of a home or business as water leaks onto ceilings and eventually floors and walls. Johnson says that not only this, but a leaky roof can cause warm air to escape the structure, which means higher electric bills as those home or business owners attempt to keep the interior warm.

When you have a hole, any hole, in your home, air is going to get out," Johnson states. "Warm air from your heating unit or in the summer, cold air from the air conditioner can get outside. Your unit will have to work harder to keep the inside air comfortable which means a drastic increase in the cost of your heating and cooling bill. Having your roof repaired can stop all of that."

Versatile Roofing Pros - Columbia Heights has decades of experience in roofing repairs and replacements, as well as new roof installations. The company states that they are a family owned and operated business that puts customer service at the top of their priority list. They hire only skilled and experienced roofers to ensure that their customers get the best possible roofing services.

The company states that while most homeowners believe winter to be a less than ideal time to repair or replace a roof, keeping warm air inside and protecting a home's interior is crucial. Johnson says that winter is the best possible time to have a roof inspected to ensure that there are no issues or leaks just waiting to happen. The company states that they offer free consultations to customers so that the customer will know exactly what they need with regards to services and that their fees are set before the job with no surprise costs added after the job has been completed.

Johnson says that with the snow and ice that is common in Minnesota during the winter months, it is essential that home and business owners know that their roofs are in good condition. Ignoring even the tiniest roof leak could lead to a massive repair down the road which takes time and could cost the home or business owner thousands of dollars in repairs. Johnson says that to avoid these issues, having a roof inspected before those winter storms arrive is a good idea.

Versatile Roofing Pros offers more information about their services on their official website. The company states that they are pleased to now be serving customers in Columbia Heights and says that home and business owners should understand that their roof is something that cannot be overlooked when it comes to repairs. Johnson states that anyone who knows that they have an issue should contact the company immediately to schedule a consultation. Those who are not sure if they have a leak or anyone who simply wants to ensure that their home or business is protected from water damage and higher energy costs can also contact the company to schedule an inspection of their roof and to repair any issues before they become a problem.
