June 26, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Concepts of Spring LLP continues to celebrate their Spring Safe & Sound® Child Safety lock product that was launched towards the end of 2014, with their new extended range. These days customers are able to buy a 2 lock and 1 key pack and a 4 lock and 1 key pack ? in addition to their standard 8 lock and 2 key pack. They have extended their range in response to a number of customer requests.

The company has developed their Magnetic Cabinet Security System product around home safety and security and claim that their magnetic locks are extremely versatile in their use ? especially around the home. They anticipate that producing more options will help parents to more strategically target those areas around the home where potential dangers exist. Julie Monson certainly agrees. She writes, "I love these cabinet locks. These are the first ones that actually keep my daughter out of the cabinet. She got passed every other kind, but without the door opening at all and without something she can just pull off the handle, she stays out of the chemicals. They were a little complicated to install, but didn't take too long. The magnet is light enough to stick to almost any metal. Overall great product."

Concepts of Spring say that most parents are acutely aware of the safety issues their children face out in the world today but quote the worrying statistic that a child was more likely to experience an accident or a fatality inside their own home than away from it. They consider that injuries in the home can be avoided with education and thought-through prevention measures. As such they have created a Top Tips report and attractive discount coupons that can be accessed from their website, together with a series of informative videos.

Concepts of Spring CEO, Sharon Ring states that one of the primary prevention measures of keeping children safe is to prevent them from gaining access to storage areas in the home - areas that may prove extremely hazardous to their health. In, she has found that purchasing reliable and effective Child Safety products can be hit and miss but the USA made, ultra-strong neodymium magnetic locking device from Spring Safe & Sound overcomes this issue. She claims that these locks are solid and secure, invisible once fitted and feature no "part opening" doors, which eliminates the risk of trapped fingers. They offer a Complete Satisfaction Lifetime Guarantee and consider their locks to be a worthy choice by everybody's standards.
