Irwindale, CA: Perfect Hair Focus, the California based brand that retails hair fibers for thinning hair, has released new tips to help customers select the right kind of hair fibers for themselves.

According to Allen Farrar, spokesperson for Perfect Hair Focus, "Hair fibers are a new product that can be difficult to understand, which is why we are trying to raise awareness on what these products really are and how people who are suffering from hair loss problems can use them to hide their issues."

Hair fibers, also known as hair building fibers are tiny keratin-protein strands available in an array of hair colors. Originally built for combatting hair thinness, it is a safe and natural way to conceal baldness and thinning hair.

When it comes to select the right root touch up powder, make sure that it is made of the right ingredients. Select a product that does not include any harmful ingredients and preservatives such as parabens, phthalates, sulfates, silica, aluminum, cotton, rayon. Try to go for a keratin-based product as keratin is the protein that makes up each of the hair strands naturally.

The second important thing to look out for is the colour of the hair fibers. Hair fibers usually come in multiple colors to help people select the right shade for themselves. This ensures that the product does not look caked upon and gives the feel of authentic, real hair. One should also make sure to pick up hair fibers that suit one's hair type. Hair fibers can be used as per your hair type and can be usually applied to all kinds of hair including straight, wavy, curly, coiled, and even tightly coiled hair.

Perfect Hair Focus has released a new range of hair loss products that have been created using natural ingredients that do not contain any harmful chemicals or additives. Their hair powder for thinning hair has already proven to be popular amongst customers, with one happy buyer stating, "This has been such a great help. Lately I have noticed my normally thick hair is showing gaping spots. The hair doesn't seem to be falling out, just splitting and showing scalp. I see it in women often, especially older women, but I don't want to see it in my mirror. So I use this product and feel comfortable anywhere.? Visit their website to learn more.
