My Cousin Vinny's Rentals of Johnston, Rhode Island, has established a reputation for having that "little extra something" that can make any party or event extra special. An example of this is the large selection of inflatables and equipment that it offers. Many of the available inflatable rentals are unique and creative and can set the mood and atmosphere for a variety of events and parties for all ages.

The company owner, Vincent Pezzullo, said, ?We made it a point when we first opened our party rental business to try and be different. That means we spent a lot of time looking around to find the best and most exciting inflatables that were available. Our team is always on the lookout for any new and unique party inflatables that come into the marketplace too. This resulted in us having a large selection of inflatables where everyone can find one that perfectly fits the theme of their party or event.? The company's available inventory can be viewed and booked on its official website.

Pezzullo went on to say that with the company's expansive inflatable choices, the team of party professionals is equipped to cater to a range of themes, budgets, and timeframes. One of the more popular options for events expecting many attendees is the T-Rex Combo Bounce House Slide. It?s almost two stories tall (30?Lx14?Wx18?H) and features an ominous-looking Tyrannosaurus Rex on top of it to go along with its protruding slide that?s over 15 feet long. There are also many other bounce houses, waterslides, and wet/dry combo inflatables to choose from. He also pointed out that they carry more interactive types of inflatables too. A good example of this is the giant inflatable that is meant to mimic the popular children?s game "Hungry, Hungry Hippos." Only it?s the adults that are actually playing pieces in the game, so the fun can be had by all. A better description of this inflatable and some full-color photos can be seen on My Cousin Vinny's Rentals Facebook Page.

Pezzullo also mentioned they realize that inflatables are not the only pieces of equipment that are required to put on a proper party or event. That?s why the company carries a complete line of other party and event equipment too. This includes having tents in sizes that are great for a small backyard party or big enough to keep an entire wedding gallery out of the elements. He also talked about how they have a large selection of tables and chairs, mobile bars, and even inflatable gathering rooms.

Those that have booked party rental items from My Cousin Vinny?s often leave glowing reviews about their experience with the company. Becca Smith left a positive review on the company's Google business listing and said, ?Great service. They gave a courtesy call 30 minutes before they dropped the unit off, and the bounce house was a big hit! They even dropped off a day early at no charge which was awesome! Setup and takedown went super smoothly. Would use them again for sure! I also loved how easy it was to order online!?

Happy customer Nicole Greenberg said, ?Truly the best party and event rental service around! We have used My Cousin Vinny's Rentals for a few of our parties over the last couple of years and they never disappoint! From set up to take down they are true professionals and go above and beyond to make sure your party and event rental goes as smoothly as possible. Can't say enough about the customer service as well as they are extremely nice and pleasant to deal with! Very accommodating with regards to the scheduling of rental drop-offs and pick-ups which is a bonus! Highly recommend using for your party or event. You won't be disappointed!?

Over 500 reviews have been left on My Cousin Vinny?s Google Maps Business Listing where they average an outstanding 4.9 out of a possible 5-stars. These reviews and hundreds more like them can be read online.
