With their professional and experienced staff, they will be able to handle all the logistics involved in the move, so seniors can sit back and relax. While the company does take on the vast majority of manual and logistical tasks on behalf of any customers, they are even more respectful of a senior?s need for clarity and consistency. As a result, elderly customers can always expect a company representative to offer guidance wherever necessary and deal with problems on their behalf.

Having worked with many customers already, the company is no stranger to high praise. Tracy H. says in a glowing Google review, ?Outstanding moving service. Before the relocation, I did a huge amount of research and obtained multiple prices from various moving companies. Abreu Movers Brooklyn pricing was reasonable (not the cheapest, but close), and I like that they charged a flat rate as opposed to an hourly rate. Even after I had secured my relocation date with a deposit, someone was always available to answer my inquiries. The movers assisted me in moving from Brooklyn, NY to Hudson Yards the day of. Movers were very fast and resourceful in moving our furniture (we had a lot: a bed, a mattress, a large sectional sofa, a dining table, chairs, desks and several other pieces of furniture) plus more goods. They were able to accomplish the relocation in six hours. We were amazed with how quickly they moved! I was really impressed that the move did not result in any damaged glasses or sensitive items. Plan to utilize them in the future.?

Nancy C. also says, ?Carlos and his crew were one of the best parts of moving! Their professionalism, friendly nature and hard work made our move a breeze. They had us out of our old apartment and into our new one in record speed. They were extremely careful with our belongings and transparent about any additional charges incurred during the move (we had more than what was initially quoted). Abreu Movers Brooklyn was affordable and really good about communicating with us throughout the entire moving process. Top notch company! I would definitely reach out to them again about any of our future moves and will be sure to share their information with friends.?
