Dr. Ilona Casellini, DMD with Swiss Quality Smile is a cosmetic dentist in Westwood who is carrying on a family tradition. The Los Angeles, California based dentist is a fourth generation dentist, following in the footsteps of her parents and grandparents in helping patients to learn to love their smiles.

Dr. Casellini is carrying on a dental legacy that dates all the way back to 1910. The dentist states, "Our goal is to provide our patients with the beautiful smile that they have always wanted, while making them comfortable and happy at the same time. We offer the very latest in dental technology and are proud to be carrying on this tradition of putting our patients first."

Swiss Quality Smile offers advanced technology in the dental field including digital x-rays, in-office tooth bleaching to remove stains, dental implants, Invisalign invisible braces, laser dentistry and other services. The dental clinic includes a lab in-house that they state helps to lower the wait time for patients who are receiving a number of dental services. The in-house lab is owned and operated by Casellini's parents, Renzo and Irene.

“We believe that our patients deserve only the very best with regards to their treatment and their products,” says Dr. Casellini. “Our in-house laboratory plays a vital role in our overall practice and the combined more than 40 years of experience means that our patients are in very good hands.”

The cosmetic dentist in West Los Angeles says that an attractive smile is about more than simply looking good. She states that taking care of general dentistry is something that many patients need to do to avoid issues that could be serious. Misalignment and tooth loss not only causes one to feel self-conscious but could lead to issues that need more extensive treatment in the future. Dr. Casellini states that anyone who is facing such an issue should contact the office to schedule an initial consultation. She states that with their advanced dental technology, she and her staff can make any patient feel perfectly comfortable and relaxed through any procedure and help patients to create a smile that they are proud to show off.

Dr. Casellini states that she is proud to be a fourth generation dental professional. She states that the passion for helping patients to look and feel their best started in the early 1900s with her great-grandparents and lives on in her. She states that the Casellini name has become synonymous in West Los Angeles with caring and comforting dental professionals and that she is honored to carry on that tradition.

Dr. Casellini states that her dental practice offers a wide range of cosmetic treatments including braces and Invisalign, as well as implants, crowns and partial or full dentures that help patients to overcome their issues with misaligned or otherwise imperfect teeth. She states that while having an attractive smile is important, the main concern of her practice is and has always been to help her patients live a healthier lifestyle. Studies show that misaligned, missing or abscessed teeth can cause serious health issues. In addition to lowering one’s self-esteem, issues with teeth can lead to heart disease and other serious issues that patients can avoid by having their smiles checked out by a trusted dentist. Dr. Casellini states that she is carrying on the tradition of providing a healthy and beautiful smile that was started decades ago by her grandparents.

Swiss Quality Smile is owned and operated by Dr. Ilona Casellini, DMD. Dr. Casellini states that it was always her intention to carry on the family name of providing high quality professional dental services. She states that anyone in the West Los Angeles area, or surrounding locations, can contact the dental practice to schedule an initial consultation to see what needs to be done to give the patient the smile of their dreams. Those interested can learn more about the dental practice and the family’s history by visiting them online.
