July 02, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bella Joi Beauty announced earlier today that their stretch mark cream sale at Amazon will end tomorrow. The sale is an opportunity for pregnant women to get a cream that enables them to get rid of their stretch marks before they become permanent at a special discounted price.

"The sale provides a way for us to make pregnant women and those who have stretch marks due to rapid weight gain aware of Bella Joi's cream for stretch marks," says the company's representative Holly Richards. "We hope that anyone wishing to take advantage of the discounted price will do so as it is a great way to help heal and nourish skin that is damaged with stretch marks. The moisturization our lotion provides helps prevent red stretch marks from turning white and scarring."

The company, which has amassed a group of loyal followers, has been in the spotlight for many months because of the people who have used and like the pregnancy cream. In the Amazon platform alone, it has received a number of positive reviews that are usually centered on its ingredients. One review by a reviewer named Gabby mentioned that she sees the product as a game changer, "I have red deep scars on my sides, hips, thighs, and arms. I have scrubbed, exfoliated, and used lighting creams with little result. The Bella Joi Stretch Mark Cream has been a game changer. I have applied this product religiously after using a loofah in the shower on my scars. I massage the stretch mark cream in to the skin and feel the nourishing effects immediately. My scars are fading and it's a wonderful feeling!"

Invented by a naturopathic doctor, the formula of the stretch mark lotion included three moisturizing butters namely Mango, Cocoa and Shea. Three oils were also added in the concoction as well as antioxidants in the form of Aloe. The cream, even with its thick consistency, will not leave the skin greasy and oily because it is easily absorbed by the skin when applied.

The beauty company Bella Joi, would like to remind everyone again that the sale for their stretch mark removal cream will end tomorrow at Amazon. The company encourages those interested in help to get rid of stretch marks to take advantage of the reduced price while it is still available.
