87 Movers Las Vegas has helped thousands of renters and homeowners move in and out of Las Vegas, from and to, all across the United States. The company claims to have mastered the logistics needed to ensure that every item in the customer?s household reaches the destination on time and in excellent condition. The company has perfected its operations and systems and can replicate its high degree of success for all clients, regardless of the size, scope, deadlines, and distance of the move.

Customers get to enjoy a hands-off moving experience as 87 Movers Las Vegas can handle everything from pick-up and transfer to the destination, complete dismantling and reassembly of furniture, taxes, mileage, gas, tolls, and original packaging, insurance, and even a quilt of padding for each item. The company?s full-service packing and moving packages allow homeowners to focus on their other concerns while its experienced and professional moving crew deftly handles the difficult part.

The spokesperson for the company talks about how 87 Movers Las Vegas prepares for a long-distance move by saying, ?We begin by offering interested customers a no-obligation on-site quote that includes a binding price and packing options. Our responsive and courteous staff will then answer any questions you might have about the pickup and delivery process. This is followed up by exhaustive and in-depth documentation of any special moving requirements as every customer has different needs and may have items that need to be handled with extra precision. We will then draft a contract for you to sign which you can trust to have no hidden fees and lists all the terms of the agreement with full transparency. On the day of the move, we arrive on time and get to work, meticulously loading every item with great care. When you and your family arrive at your destination, depending on the schedule of the move, you will find all your belongings ready for you to use.?

Apart from its popular long-distance moving services, 87 Movers Las Vegas also offers local residential moving, either a single room or an entire home, organizing, wrapping, and packing services, portable storage containers for rent, shipping and receiving unique and bulky items, experienced onsite moving labor, and more. Website visitors can use its convenient online calculator to enter a few details such as the zip codes for the origin and the destination, the size of the house, storage, or office to be moved, whether there are any additional stops, and the move date and get back a rough estimate.

Las Vegas residents have shown their love and appreciation for the moving company by blessing it with a near-perfect 4.9 out of 5.0 overall score from nearly 200 reviews on its Google Business Profile. One of the latest reviews says, ?I needed some furniture moved from one house to another and some rearrangement of other furniture. Tony and his team did it all for me. They were on time, did the job expeditiously, and at a great price. I would use them over and over without hesitation. If you need stuff moved, don?t do it yourself, call Tony and let the pros do it. You will be very happy that you did.? Another reviewer recounted their experience by saying, ?Quick and efficient, made our move so easy and stress-free. No damage to our items. Super friendly and hard-working crew. We would absolutely use them again.?
