St. Saviours, United Kingdom - A unique microfiber travel towel has been hailed to be an essential travel accessory because it is made from cutting edge materials by Bodi Hut. It is created from high quality microfibres. They also use a high thread count that assures the user that it is gentle and mushy for every types of skin. This makes the microfibre travel towels ideal for both adults and babies in maintaining the PH-balance of their skins.

When traveling, a towel would normally be the last thing in the minds to pack. However, Bodi Hut?s best drying travel towels are an all-important travel accessory. Whether it is to the beach, a weekend getaway or just a trip to the gym, the travel towels are always to be a vastly essential item.

One 5-star Amazon customer said the best drying travel towel is amazingly lovely, ?I was really nervous about the thinness of the towel the first, but after using it I was really surprised at how absorbent it really was. First thing I did was I put a large cup of water on the table and I laid it on top of the puddle. Almost immediately The water was absorbed, I wrung the towel out and hung it up to dry. It dried so fast. I was very pleased with this. After that I decided to wash my hair and use it to dry it. I like the fact that it's not a superheavy towel and it really sucked the water out of my hair very easily. It?s very soft to the touch, and It didn't feel rough on my hair. I really like this towel, and I think everyone should have one."

The microfibre travel towel is a part of an ultimate travel guide holiday packing list on the Telegraph, mainly due to the many great features of the travel towel. The microfibre travel towels weigh 205 g less than an average orange. They are also 60 percent lighter than the ordinary cotton towels. These will fit securely in a travel bag without the worry of taking up too much space. They are very compact when folded flat, 22 x 17 cm and 130 x 80 cm when expanded. The microfibre travel towels dry 287 percent faster than cotton. Ninety percent of water can be wrung out and left to dry in just minutes.

According to a representative from Bodi Hut, ?our microfibre travel towels are highly absorbent and are capable of absorbing an astonishing 1.8 litres of water. The dry towel will literally ?suck up? the water due to the cutting edge microfibre technology. Meaning a user can dry their entire body within seconds and the travel towel itself will dry in minutes.?

The best drying travel towel from Bodi Hut is currently available on Amazon. Each purchase backed by a 100 percent money back satisfaction guarantee. For a limited time, a purchase also qualifies a shopper for a free breathable storage case and a weight loss eBook.
