March 01, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Irvine, CA ? Tree Service Experts Irvine is proud to announce their newly formed partnership with several local historical societies in the Irvine area. This partnership will bring together the expertise of Tree Service Experts Irvine and the passion for preserving history from these local organizations to help maintain the beauty and grandeur of historic homes and landmarks in the region.

The partnership between Tree Service Experts Irvine and the local historical societies will focus on providing professional care for the trees surrounding these properties. This includes assessing the health of existing trees, removing dead or damaged trees safely and correctly, providing appropriate preventative maintenance, and helping to replant trees when necessary.

In addition, Tree Service Experts Irvine is offering these organizations a discounted rate for their services so that these historical sites can enjoy optimal tree care without breaking their budgets. The impact of this new partnership will be far-reaching.

Now, these local historical societies have access to expert tree care to maintain their properties. Moreover, the partnership also allows them to keep more money in their operating budgets, which can be used for other projects related to preserving history.

Additionally, by keeping historic homes and landmarks well-maintained with healthy trees, the overall beauty and integrity of the area will be preserved. This new partnership will benefit not only those involved now but generations of locals and visitors alike who appreciate the history of Irvine's past, enjoying its beauty for years.

Tree Service Experts Irvine's CEO, Marco Federic, shared his enthusiasm for the initiative: "We're very excited to be partnering with these local historical societies to provide expert tree care services for some of the most beautiful and important sites in our area. We understand that these places are more than just homes or buildings; they represent part of our heritage and contain often forgotten stories. As a company, we feel our mission is to do our part to help preserve these pieces of our history and keep them looking their best."

In addition to providing tree care services, Tree Service Experts Irvine plans to work closely with historical societies to develop educational programs about the importance of trees and how they can impact the environment. These educational programs will include topics such as how to care for a tree properly, the benefits of different types of tree species, and how trees can be incorporated into landscaping designs.

Tree Service Experts Irvine's partnership with these local historical societies exemplifies how businesses and nonprofit organizations can unite to make a meaningful impact in their communities. With this initiative, both parties hope to increase awareness about the need to protect and preserve historic homes and landmarks in the area.

"This is a great opportunity for us to work with some amazing people who share our same passion for protecting and preserving our local history," said Federic. "We believe this partnership will benefit everyone involved and look forward to seeing its positive impact on our community."
