February 06, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Sacramento, CA based Aantex Pest Control Norcal recently issued a public advisory for property owners in the Sacramento CA area, advising them to take the utmost care when dealing with spider and black widow control.

Black widow spiders are recognized by the red hourglass shape under their abdomen. These spiders are extremely venomous and can therefore have a very harmful bite. Pets that ingest these spiders can get a lethal dose of their venom, which is why it is important to exterminate these spiders for the safety of both family and pets.

Identifying the exact type of spider is important before extermination. This is why experts advise that concerned individuals hire professionals to do the job. Aantex Pest Control Norcal is one of the best known companies for black widow pest control Sacramento. They run a team of bug experts and exterminators that can identify any kind of bug or pest and handle the entire extermination process accordingly. Having celebrated their 48th anniversary last November, the company has been conducting their professional bug and pest control services in the area, which have been greatly appreciated by the local community.

Over the many decades of its operation, Aantex Pest Control Norcal has built a reputation for providing superior pest management for residential and commercial buildings. With customer-friendly support and services, along with a "get it right the first time" attitude, the company has retained a large number of satisfied customers that have come to trust it for their pest control needs.

"Our continuing objective is and always will be, to provide exceptional customer service both in and out of the office," said founder and co-owner Jim Wood. "Customer satisfaction will continue to be the number one priority, even before the growth of our company."

Aantex Pest Control Norcal provides hassle-free spider control Sacramento services. Spider control is of vital importance, especially for those living in the southwest. There are over 3,000 species of spiders living throughout North America, and a few of them can cause serious harm to human beings. These include the brown recluse spider and the black widow spider.

"At Aantex, all of our friendly pest control professionals are licensed to ensure your home's pest problems will be handled by an exterminator you can trust," states the company on their website, continuing that their, "technicians" number one goal is to work hard to eliminate pests from your residence along with providing the best customer service possible. We have ongoing training, which includes giving our technicians up to date Integrated Pest Management (IPM) strategies in making evaluations or assessments, monitoring, and selecting the best type of pest control for your needs. Our IPM strategies also include implementing prevention and common sense approaches to keep pests from becoming a threat to your home in the future."

Among the areas and cities that the company operates in include Sacramento, Rocklin, Roseville, Granite Bay, Carmichael, Loomis, Folsom, Fair Oaks, Orangevale, Citrus Heights, South Sacramento, Elk Grove, and Laguna. They provide various extermination services such as bed bug and pest control, rodent control, spider control, roach control, wood eating ant control, bird removal, bee, wasp and fly control, and more. Aantex Pest Control Norcal can take care of any form of infestation, whether within residential homes or office/commercial buildings.

The pest control company has an extensive list of satisfied customers, and they enjoy exceptional ratings on online review platforms. "We have been using Aantex Pest Control since 1992," said Janet R. on Yelp. "They provide the best service, hands down. They really know their business, and they're a great value. We use them in my professional property management company as well as for our own properties. I would not hesitate to recommend them to anyone who asked. They have my highest recommendation."

Aantex Pest Control Norcal is a highly effective spider exterminator in Sacramento, with very affordable prices. Those looking to avail themselves of the company's services for spider or any other kind of bug, pest, or rodent extermination can visit the company's website for more details, or call them for a session. They offer free estimates for any extermination job.
