March 21, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -
Fair Oaks, CA - Tree Service Pros Fair Oaks is proud to announce the launch of its innovative Virtual Reality Tree Care Program. This cutting-edge program uses virtual reality technology to visualize urban forests and their unique needs comprehensively.

The program was developed with the help of CEO Lydia Johnson and her team at Tree Service Pros Fair Oaks. ?We wanted to create a way for people to easily visualize how trees in their local area are affected by climate, soil composition, and pollution,? says Johnson. ?With our Virtual Reality Tree Care Program, users can now explore their environment more effectively and make more informed decisions about tree care.?

The program allows users to take a virtual tour of an urban forest from multiple perspectives, enabling them better to understand the condition of trees in the area. With the help of the program?s intuitive interface, users can also identify potential problems and prioritize which trees need the most care. In addition, they can also access detailed data on each tree, including its age, species, and health status.

?This program gives us the ability to assess the unique needs of each tree,? says Johnson. ?It enables us to accurately plan effective treatments and customize our services based on each tree?s individual needs. This helps us provide the best possible service to our clients and ensure that their trees are healthy and thriving.?
