

Real Estate Consultant Now Buying Houses In Houston TX

March 01, 2019

March 01, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Local Houston Homebuyers has announced that they are now buying houses in Houston, Texas. The company buys homes directly from homeowners, without the need for real estate agencies and the paperwork and wait times that often go along when working with an agent.

More information about Local Houston Homebuyers and their homebuying services can be seen on the company's official website at <https://localhoustonhomebuyers.business.site>. A company spokesperson states that they provide options to homeowners who are having a difficult time selling their houses quickly.

"Some homeowners do not have the option of working with a real estate agent," says the spokesperson. "Some may need to sell in just a few days, whereas going through the traditional means of working with a real estate agent can take up to months or even years. Others may be facing foreclosure or have other reasons that would hinder them from working with a traditional real estate agency. The options we offer are compatible with every homeowner, and we purchase the home as fast as possible so that the owner can move on to another purchase or take care of other things."

The company announced that they are now buying homes in Houston and the neighboring areas. The spokesperson states that they buy homes regardless of condition and situation, such as foreclosure, making it easier for the homeowner to get out from under that home debt and move on.

Interested individuals who want to learn more about the specific areas that the company provides service to can visit them at <https://goo.gl/maps/DRvYxmbXabt>. The spokesperson of the company says that their home-buying services offer quite the benefit over working with a traditional real estate agency for many different reasons.

“Our process is simple and straightforward,” the spokesperson of the company continues. “Homeowners can sell their houses as fast as possible, without having to worry about the repairs and fixes that the house needs. There is also no appraisals, inspections, and paperwork that come along with real estate agents. We buy homes as fast as possible, often in just a week after the first call.”

The company states that homeowners in the Houston area who are looking to sell their houses as fast as possible can contact them to get an idea of what needs to be done afterward. The spokesperson states that homes can be sold regardless of the condition, even if it needs major serious repairs such as new roofing, floors, and even termite issues. He says that they buy these homes directly from homeowners to help them speed up their home-selling experience. They do not have to wait for months, unlike when putting up the house for sale in the real estate market.

The company also said that homeowners in Houston who would like to sell their house can contact them to talk about their specific options. They state that they purchase homes of all sizes and shapes and provide a simplified approach to the homeowners to get the sale completed in a week or less. Their homebuying services are offered for all homeowners even those who are behind their mortgage payments.

The company states that they do not charge commissions like what real estate agents do. They explain that there are no hidden fees and homeowners are walked through the process even before proceeding to start to make sure that they know exactly what is happening and when.

Local Houston Homebuyers has been in the business for years working with homeowners in Houston to help them sell their houses without the added stress. The company states that anyone who is interested to learn more about their homebuying services and how it is executed can visit them on their website or media webpage at <https://www.pressadvantage.com/organization/local-houston-homebuyers> for the latest news and announcements. Direct contact information for homeowners in Houston and the neighboring cities who would like to speak with a representative and talk about their options can be found on the company’s official website. The company states that they are willing to help homeowners by discussing their options in an attempt to help them sell their houses as quickly as possible. They are currently buying homes in all neighborhoods and subdivisions surrounding Houston. More information can be seen on the company's website.
