RevU World has launched a website, the primary motive of which is to help customers in their purchases of Amazon products. A representative for the site provided an explanation of what the site does.

The site representative says, ?The site is designed to help customers in making the correct choice of the products that they may be considering buying on Amazon. All products that are popular on Amazon or any of its affiliates are included with reviews of the products, to help customers take a more informed buying decision.?

The company aims to be the most comprehensive review and general information site for those who regularly shop on Amazon or through any of their affiliates. The representative states that they currently have a large number of reviews already on the new site and new reviews of different products will be added on a regular basis.

In addition to their website, the company also has an official LinkedIn page which offers more information on what they do. Those interested in connecting with the site on a professional level can reach out to their LinkedIn page or join their LinkedIn network.

“We want to help people to know what they are buying before they buy it,” says the representative for the new website. “Our goal is to offer reviews that are honest and unbiased and that give value to customers with regards to choosing their needed products.”

Product reviews currently available on the site include everything from personal pepper spray and digital thermometers to pencil sharpeners, digital pianos, waist trainers and more. The site states that they regularly choose items to review based on customer need and on product popularity. The company states that they always review products in a strictly unbiased and helpful manner.

The site currently has a variety of different categories of products ranging from high ticketed items to the more every day used product like best work boots in their reviews. The best work boots page starts with the necessity for good working boots and then showcases in-depth reviews of different boots available for the user. With an easy navigation design, the site makes it easy for customers to find the specific reviews that they want to read without spending time looking around for them.

The actual number of products that are reviewed in each category will depend on the number of brands, models and many more factors, added the representative. The reviews include unbiased opinions of those products, along with links to their Amazon sales pages and the site’s specific rating for that product. Pricing information is included with each review as well and is used in some cases to further the review. If a product is too pricey for instance, the review will state that fact and offer consumers alternatives that may be more cost-friendly.

The website aims to become a one stop shop for anyone considering shopping on Amazon. The website hopes that shoppers will visit them to read through their product reviews before they make their purchasing decision. With honest reviews difficult to come by, since most other sites offering information on products are affiliated with the product in some way, RevU World intends to make a difference by carrying honest reviews of certain products and whether or not they feel that these products are worth their price or their claimed function. Those interested can learn more by visiting the company on their new website.
