

Backyard Bug Patrol Receives Multiple 5-Star Reviews for Services and Work Ethic

June 01, 2023

Great Falls, Virginia - June 01, 2023 -
Pests don?t stand a chance with Backyard Bug Patrol in Great Falls, Virginia. Backyard Bug Patrol serves the suburban Virginia and Maryland areas, helping homeowners stay protected against pesky pests all year long. Recently, the company received a number of 5-star reviews for their excellent service. John Mitchell, the company?s founder, couldn?t be more proud of their customer satisfaction.

?We do our best to deliver excellent services; it?s good to know our customers appreciate our efforts,? says Mitchell.

The company specializes in tick and mosquito control, and for each home, they customize a bug-repellant barrier to fit the customer's needs. Organic pest control options are also available. In addition to tick and mosquito protection, they offer preventative pest control for termites, ants, stink bugs, rodents, and other pests. Backyard Bug Patrol makes pest control easy, stress-free, and safe for families. Customers can learn more about how they keep each home protected by contacting the company via their website, Google

Business Profile, or by calling directly.

Backyard Bug Patrol also offers commercial services for retail properties, shopping centers, office buildings, warehouses, commercial pools, sports clubs, and governmental organizations. They follow Integrated Pest Management protocols for all services, which is the certified operating procedure for pest control.

?We want our customers to know that we are committed to keeping their family, home, or business 100% protected,? says Mitchell.

Customers love the 5-star service so much, they?ve left dozens of 5-star reviews. The first review comes from happy customer Linda B., who writes: ?I have used Backyard Bug for more than 5 years and would not hesitate to recommend their services to anyone in this waterside area. Living on a property that was surrounded by woods and marsh, made insect control a must. Now that I am in a more manageable piece of land, I did not hesitate to call on their services to maintain not only a healthy and bug-free environment for humans but also count on Backyard Bugs to protect my pets!?

Another review comes from Rebecca K., who says: ?We purchased the Flower Power program to control mosquitos in our yard. We definitely saw a decrease in mosquitos and could enjoy being outside in our yard this past summer. We've purchased the same program again for this coming summer. Backyard Bug Patrol was easy to communicate with, responsive, and on time. They even came out after a big rain to spray again for "added protection". I highly recommend them.?

?We?ve been in business for 10 years, and it all started when our entire family got Lyme disease from ticks in our backyard,? says Mitchell.

John says they treat every service as if it were their own home. This level of service is what inspired this third 5-star review from Lucia T., who writes: ?I absolutely love the services BBP provides. Having a child with a tick-borne illness, it's extremely important to me that we keep ticks away. BBP does that. I am thankful for finding them.?
