Evolve Motors, a car dealership based in Chicago, Illinois, is now offering consignment services for individuals looking to sell their classic and used cars to the public. Evolve Motors has added its consignment service to its long line of services which includes car deals involving classic and collectible cars. The car dealership company also offers worldwide transportation solutions as well as financial options.

Family-owned Evolve Motors has been servicing its clients with trust, loyalty, and respect. The recent addition of car consignment services has strengthened Evolve Motors' passion in providing 100% customer satisfaction to its customers. "We feel pretty good about finally offering consignment services to the public. It's been a long time coming," an Evolve Motors spokesperson said. "We understood the need and we're dedicated to making sure our customers will get the reach they require to sell their cars," stated the spokesperson.

Evolve Motors makes consigning an individual's vehicle relatively easy. The company takes care of everything, taking all the necessary steps in order for customers to sell or trade their cars. The process entails Evolve Motors' professionals taking photographs and videos of the vehicles, then providing detailed write-ups to advertise them. The consignments consist of a three-month or 90-day agreement for a flat fee. Evolve Motors works hard to sell consigned vehicles, with the car dealership's reach spanning from the United States to as far as France, China, or even South America. The company specializes in classic car consignment, collector car sales, and luxury cars. Sales negotiations, presentations, and overall marketing are done by the company.

The car dealership company expressed its intent to continue adding additional services to its already valuable roster of services. Moreover, Evolve Motors is looking to expand its team as its number of services increases over time. Residents of Chicago will be pleased to know that Evolve Motors will continue to strive providing used luxury and collectible cars. Evolve Motors' spokesperson reassures, "Evolve Motors wants to be an institution among car dealerships, which is why we won't stop providing excellent customer service to our clients. We value them as much as they value our business."
