VA-based Top Dog Home Pro is pleased to share a piece of feedback they recently received from a customer in Woodbridge. The company has invested heavily in its customer service training as well as roofing services, and they are proud to share that this has resulted in a much stronger overall service.

The customer, Nadia, says, ?Absolutely loved working with TDHP and highly highly recommend them! Literally, I immediately told my entire family about them, and as much as you don?t ever wish for any issues with your roof, I feel so relieved knowing I have TDHP as my trusted go-to company! Luke was so responsive, timely and even followed up with me to make sure the issue had been resolved. Again, for a stressful situation, they really do deliver top quality service and peace of mind!?

It is notable that this is far from the only 5-star review the company has earned over the years. In fact, they boast a perfect 5-star rating overall, aggregated over several dozen reviews that have similarly positive comments to share. Top Dog Home Pro attributes this praise to their deep commitment to quality work and customer service, a combination that is supported by the team?s extensive experience in the industry. According to Top Dog Home Pro, each member receives ongoing training and has worked with homeowners on countless projects, thereby enabling a strong understanding of what customers are looking for in a Woodbridge roofer.

Another Top Dog Home Pro customer review from Dave highlights how helpful the company can be after the work is complete as well. The review explains, ?The warranty is also great. We asked, and Luke gave us some extra shingles in case one ever got damaged, but he reminded us of the warranty and to contact him if our roof had any issue or was damaged by falling debris, bad weather, etc. I should also add that after the job was done, the clean up was completed and the ground was clean and free of nails, etc. Be sure to include Top Dog Home Pro when you're shopping for roofing! You'll be glad you did.?

A home?s exterior is its first line of defense against the elements, and the roof is an important component of said defense. As a result, any issue with the roof will often be felt elsewhere in the home, such as when a leak develops and allows water to soak into the attic and walls below. Water damage of this kind can be incredibly costly to deal with, and homeowners who do not realize their roof is experiencing a leak may also have to contend with mold infestations if the problem persists for too long.

This is only one example of the headaches a homeowner could find themselves dealing with when a roof stops working correctly. It is also why the company advises everyone to get in touch at once if they believe something is amiss.

In addition to roofing, Top Dog Home Pro can assist homeowners with their gutters. The company says people who invest in gutter guards tend to see a return on investment in only a handful of years, saving money by not having to pay to have them cleaned each year. This investment also reduces wear and tear or other types of damage to other parts of the home, including the foundation, siding, windows, interior, and more, and the team would be delighted to discuss an installation with any customer. They are also ready to pay a customer a visit immediately if their gutters or gutter guards are not working properly.

Top Dog Home Pro can help customers discover problems, navigate their insurance, and decide what the best course of action is, among others. They offer free inspections to anyone who is concerned about their roof, and customers may submit a request by phone or email at their convenience. Anyone looking for reputable roofers in Woodbridge VA may contact Top Dog Home Pro to learn what their options are. Top Dog Home Pro can also be found on social media.
