Cartoon Media Ltd., an animated video production company, has recently released a brand new exclusive report called "21 Ways to Grow Your Business with Explainer Videos". This report can be downloaded free of charge. Just enter your email address at www.cartoonmedia.com/grow to receive your free copy. The report is designed to help businesses experience exponential growth by using an animated video to explain their product or service.

"People don't always realise how many different ways animated videos can be used in their marketing and training," says Phil Hampton, Managing Director of Cartoon Media. "Our free report covers many little-known scenarios that have helped our customers grow their website traffic, leads and sales in just a few days or weeks."

Cartoon Media was launched in 2012 and they have been producing explainer videos ever since. These types of videos have been proven to be highly successful in terms of conveying a company's message and helping it to spread to its target customers. Since its launch, the company has established itself as a true industry leader in this field. The new report clearly explains the importance of explainer videos and the difference they can make to overall marketing results.

"Basically, Explainer Videos are like the 'Swiss Army Knife' of marketing for any business," adds Phil Hampton. "Our report teaches people just why they are such powerful tools and how they can make sure an Explainer Video works to their advantage."

In the report, three key elements of Explainer Videos are described that must be a factor in any company's marketing plan. When used correctly, Explainer Videos can effectively double traffic and conversion rates, leading to quickly increasing leads and sales without any need for additional marketing or sales staff.

The report also explains how business can grow their email list, attract affiliates, boost their Google ranking, automate their sales process and many other things. Essentially, it helps businesses to grow exponentially, applying a few easy to follow steps. By entering their email address at www.cartoonmedia.com/grow, businesses can access all of this valuable information and learn to grow quickly with a powerful Explainer Video.
