January 07, 2016 -
Govivo, a provider of a number of health and fitness products, has released a natural product designed to function as a sleep aid to help achieve restful sleep after the busy holiday period. The product is made from 100 percent all natural lemon balm and passionflower and is not habit forming, according to the company.

The media director for Govivo states, "This sleep aid is completely natural, with no artificial ingredients, no preservatives, and no binders. It is not addictive in any way, and helps you to naturally fall asleep, waking up refreshed without drowsiness in the morning."

She says that the sleep aid pills are designed to help users fall asleep but wake up without feeling groggy, as can happen with other products. The sleep aid is specifically designed for adults, to help relax the central nervous system, so that sleep comes more easily. The company states that the all-natural formula is also good for those who suffer from jet lag, and helps to regulate a more natural sleep cycle, allowing the user to drift off into a more restful sleep.

"Whatever keeps you up at night," says the spokesperson for the company, "this can help you to overcome stress and anxiety that may be keeping you awake, and allow you to fall into a blissful sleep."

The company says that a natural sleep aid is better for consumers because it does not contain any chemicals or other harmful additives that could cause addiction. Govivo states that only completely natural ingredients are used in the sleep aid and that these ingredients have been tested thoroughly to ensure that they assist with relaxation.

The product is only available through the Amazon marketplace, and those ordering can take advantage of Amazon Prime membership if they have it, according to the company spokesperson. The media director also states that the product is backed by the company's satisfaction guarantee.

Govivo is a family owned and operated business. The company offers a variety of natural supplements that are designed to help with common ailments and issues without causing adverse side effects. More about them, and the list of products that they offer, can be seen on their official website.
