GA based Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. would like to reach out to Augusta residents who may be in need of professional assistance in a wrongful death case. Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C., one of the top personal injury lawyers in Augusta, understands the unique challenges families face when attempting to cope with the loss of a loved one, and they strive to lift the burden of pursuing a legal claim off their clients? shoulders.

The sudden loss of a loved one can be a devastating ordeal, and the resulting grief is often compounded by the complex legal and financial realities that arise from a loved one?s unexpected passing. This is why it is advisable for anyone in this situation to connect with a reliable, reputable law firm that will provide all the support they need.

Attorney Kenneth S. Nugent has a proven track record of success in helping families navigate the complexities of wrongful death cases. He and the rest of the Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. team have many years? worth of experience helping Augusta residents make their way through such cases and reach a positive outcome. The firm offers compassionate and comprehensive legal support, which includes meticulous investigation and evidence gathering, aggressive negotiation and experienced courtroom representation (if required), all in the name of ensuring that clients get the justice they deserve.

The goal of Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. in every case is to help clients secure the resources they need to rebuild their lives. This includes compensation for financial losses, such as those incurred by funerals, medical bills and lost income. Compensation may also be sought for the pain and suffering caused by the victim?s loss.

Clients should be aware that there are a number of rules to adhere to when filing wrongful death claims in Georgia. Since the victim is not available to file a claim on their own, a living representative must represent them. The spouse of the deceased, their parents or some other chosen representative can take on this role. In the case of a spouse making a claim, they are only entitled to one third of the total compensation. Regardless of how much the representative is able to claim, however, financial compensation can go a long way toward covering some of the costs that unexpected, wrongful death is likely to incur.

?Wrongful death lawsuits can be time-consuming, even more so if you attempt to navigate this process yourself,? says Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. ?Since you don?t have the experience and knowledge that a wrongful death lawyer does, it can be far more difficult if you attempt to handle the case on your own. The legal process is long and complicated, especially since you have to adhere to strict deadlines. An attorney will handle all these tasks on your behalf, freeing up your time to spend with your loved ones as you recover and rebuild.?

Every wrongful death case is unique, and the Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. team takes great pride in their ability to meet the unique needs of a diverse array of clients. The circumstances under which their loved one died, the financial situation of the client and a number of other factors all have an effect on how a case should be handled, and the firm will take all this into account as they develop a plan of action.

In addition, Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. strives to maintain certain standards at every step of the litigation process. This includes 24/7 availability, expert advice and constant communication, and there are many more examples that make the firm one of the best at handling personal injury and wrongful death cases in Augusta, Georgia.

?The whole legal team, from Jenna Matson, Ms. Barton, Mr. Trimm, finance specialist, down to the secretary, was just amazing,? says one of over a hundred glowing reviews of the firm. ?Because they didn't just treat me as a client, they treated me as if I was family. They walked me through the whole process, answered any questions I had and kept me informed. I want to thank everyone for a job well done in helping me with my situation. I wish you all the best, and may God Bless you all.?
