

Signature Offices Grand Opening: Coworking Space at 333 S. Wabash Chicago

June 28, 2019

June 28, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Signature Offices 333 S Wabash Ave Chicago is the first location for the company's coworking spaces in Chicago. The company offers office spaces for rent for entrepreneurs, professionals and startup businesses. The office spaces are available for use as coworking spaces because using an office in a coworking environment has its advantages.

Somehow, people who find themselves surrounded by high-achieving and goal-oriented professionals can serve as motivation to do the same. Also, having a large number of professionals in just one room presents lots of opportunities for networking.

Bill Vernon, chief operating officer for Signature Offices, says, "We're truly excited to announce our new location at 333 S Wabash Ave in Chicago. If you're looking for a coworking space for rent, we may just have the right office space for you. Our workspace in this location is ideally positioned in the southeast Central Business District of Chicago and is nearby three Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) stops. This fully furnished workspace contains more than 80 private offices and three meeting rooms. Gorgeous views of Lake Michigan, Millennium Park and the Museum Campus await your arrival every day ? and might make it hard to leave. This location is within walking distance of some of Chicago's most famous landmarks, entertainment venues and restaurants.

Amenities and features for the workspace include 24/7 access to the office, gorgeous views of downtown Chicago and Lake Michigan, an athletic club, a food court, a bourbon lounge, very fast Internet, nearby public transit, customer service, and covered bike storage.

There are significant benefits offered by coworking spaces. These are increased productivity, opportunities for networking, increased well being, diversity, new business, cost efficiency, and flexibility. With office sharing, companies who own or manage an office with some redundant office space can share or rent the workstations or self-contained units to smaller companies that are interested in flexible workspace. This reduces the office management expenses, such as cleaning services, office supplies, and more.

Meanwhile, clients who have already used the office spaces and services provided by Signature Offices have been very satisfied. For example, Silas P. has given them a five star rating and said, "Our company has our Chicago offices located here. We looked at several spaces in River North, The Loop and the South Loop. Though not the cheapest space in Chicago, we certainly found it to be the best value. It is a space that impresses the clients we bring in for sales presentations and I think it helps bolster our company's professional image."

The coworking spaces are also known as shared work spaces and are usually physical collaborative offices that are created in a huge suite of offices on a single floor. They have shared community spaces like meeting rooms, kitchen, and bathrooms.

Bill Vernon points out that they are entrepreneurs themselves so they understand what today's professionals require from their workplace. Signature Offices provides the answer to those demands. From the moment the clients arrive at the office location, the company's team is committed to providing them with the resources that they need in order for their business to thrive.

Signature Office also provides virtual offices for entrepreneurs who actually don't need a physical office. The basic features of their virtual office package is unlimited WiFi, five hours conference room time each month, a dedicated phone number, video conferencing, directory listing, and a prestigious mailing address.

Aside from the virtual office package, they have the 1-30 person office package that includes the virtual office perks, plus 24/7 access to their office space, access to programs and events, a private office, a choice of furniture alternatives, and professional office space. Allie S. has this to say about the office spaces, "Our clients always feel welcome at Signature Offices. It's a very professional atmosphere and we always have the space that we need."
