Chilliwack, British Columbia based All About Painting is celebrating the recent flow of support that they have enjoyed for their services. Many customers have reached out to show their appreciation and satisfaction with the local company, which has been described as a reliable and affordable house painting solution.

Following this support, the owner of All About Painting Chilliwack, Rickey Rain, was quick to express his gratitude towards the community, saying, "At All About Painting, customer satisfaction is our utmost priority. We do everything within our power to deliver an awe-inspiring painting job, which satisfies our customers completely. Seeing such outstanding support from the community means we have been able to deliver a consistently reliable service, one which we will strive towards maintaining and improving even further."

This commitment is what has earned All About painting such an outstanding reputation within the community. Customers have complimented the contractor's ability to consistently deliver a satisfactory service, which Rickey states are one of the company's fundamental goals. "We believe in the customer's opinion above all else," he asserts. "Once we begin a project, we will duly attend to it every day until we are finished, and our customers are fully satisfied with the end result. In fact, we are so confident in our painting ability that we do not take any money upfront, and won't accept any payments unless our customers are happy with the painting job."

This is an approach to business that the Chilliwack House Painting Contractor has had since their launch several decades ago in 1984. This makes up over three decades of experience and a rich history of satisfied customers who vouch for All About Painting's skills and customer service. There are few painting contractors in Chilliwack with the pedigree that All About Painting has, and even fewer that take such a customer-centred focus. For Rain's company, however, this is the most important part of their business model.

Due to this, it is not surprising that the local contractor receives such outstanding support from the community. Marie Rook states in a review, "I had recently purchased a house in the community, and I was looking for a contractor to get it painted before moving in. I was worried about the time it would take to finish the painting job since I had only a couple of weeks to finish this project and let it dry before moving in. When I contacted Rickey, he stated that he would be able to make it with a lot of time to spare, which was great since I could start moving the furniture in earlier. Overall, the painting job was amazing, and the attention to detail that he put really shows through. I can't recommend him enough, as my experience with his company is outstanding."

Another review written by James Duncan, a longtime resident of Chilliwack states, "All About Painting was recommended to me by a friend, and when I contacted Rickey, it became clear why he was so highly recommended to me. He was super responsive, was able to meet my timeline, and provided an unmatched price. Once I had set up on hiring him, I commented on how I had a hard time choosing paint colours, and he actually helped me by providing advice and making recommendations on what would look best based on his experience. The painting job he did was great, and since he kept me updated on his progress, making sure I was happy with it, I can say I could not be more satisfied with the end result. I recommend All About Painting, as I think more people should know about and support this great local contractor!"

This Chilliwack house painting contractor takes pride in this swell of positive feedback, as it illustrates the extent to which the company values their client's opinion above all.
