New Jersey's Compounda Pharmacy is set to offer its services to patients and pharmacists to Montclair residents, a local website announced last month. The compounding pharmacy produces a large variety of unique compounded drug formulations and medications at an affordable price.

The compounding pharmacy is a family-operated business complete with state-of-the-art facilities and staffed with knowledgeable employees. Compounda is introducing its brand of service to Montclair through reliable and effective medicine. "Pharmaceutical compounding is both a science and an art," Dr. Woodrow, a Compounda consultant, explained. "It is our mission to improve the quality and health of our patients, and we do it with a passion for customer care and service. We are excited to reach out and extend our services to Montclair," he stated.

Compounda's customized medication sets the bar higher compared to conventional pharmaceutical drug companies. Compounded medicine is known to be safe and effective. Compounda offers compounded drug formulations ranging from injectable medications, sublingual medications, and suppositories. Oral medications are also offered, which includes suspensions, capsules, solutions, and sugar-free formulations.

Topical medications include transdermal gels, inhalations, gels, and creams.

The pharmacy's team of experts is experienced and ready to help customers with every need. Physicians are trained to make medications that are in accordance with NABP state law and comply with the U.S. Pharmacopeia Chapters 795 and 797. They also provide physician support, do consultations, and provide drug information, among many other services.

Compounda hopes Montclair would be able to take advantage of the pharmacy's services. In addition, the pharmaceutical company also wants to spread awareness about compounded medicine to a wider market. "A lot of our customers are already experiencing the many benefits of compounded medication, although there are still some who have yet to be informed about its very existence. We hope to tap into the Montclair market and be able to meet their health needs efficiently," Dr. Woodrow said.

The Compounda Pharmacy Facebook provides the complete list of compounded drug formulations Compounda is currently offering. The pharmacy expects to add more to this list with the opening of its services in the Montclair area.
