Erectile dysfunction affects millions of men worldwide, with most men left suffering in silence. In a pivotal study from 1994 conducted by Feldman et al. it was found that 52% of men experience ED. The study highlighted that ED becomes more common as men age, affecting around 40% of men at age 40 and nearly 70% at age 70. The rate of complete ED specifically rose from 5% at age 40 to 15% at age 70. The study identified age as the factor most strongly linked to ED. Additionally, in a 2023 study by Xiao et. al ED has been shown to be significantly associated with clinical depression in men.
