February 28, 2024 -
Orlando Amusements, a leading supplier of party rentals in Central Florida, has recently announced their new selection of bounce house rentals set for the Spring 2024 season. The company emphasizes that this addition to their catalog is important as they continue their drive to provide a broad collection of premium, commercial-grade party rentals for various events, including birthday parties, school carnivals, corporate parties, business inaugurations, and fairs.

Their latest collection of bounce houses has been meticulously designed and developed to cater to the desires of both children and adults. These houses cover a broad spectrum from the traditional designs to creative, themed options. The selection includes ever-popular choices such as the Unicorn Bounce House and others with incorporated slides like the Castle Rock to enhance the fun quotient. This expanded collection reinforces Orlando Amusements' constant commitment to making events extraordinarily enjoyable and unforgettable.

Speaking about the company's intent, Angel Gonzalez, a spokesperson for Orlando Amusements stated, "Our primary commitment is to continually innovate and adjust our services to meet the changing needs and preferences of our valued clientele. The broader selection of bounce house rentals distinctly represents this commitment by providing a variety of lively and exclusive entertainment options apt for different age categories at any event."

The range of inventory at Orlando Amusements extends beyond standard bounce houses. They have earned a reputation for providing an inclusive set of amusement elements, including water slides, obstacle courses, event games, and carnival games. Moreover, they cater to assorted event management needs like tents, tables, chairs, and fun food machines. In essence, they offer a single destination for all party needs.

Differentiated by size, the company's water slides are the top choices for enhancing fun at parties. They range from the small Tropic Glide to the sizable Congo Rainforest, that serve as an excellent source of amusement for summer parties and outdoor events. Their obstacle courses, such as the 40ft Adventure and 70ft Extreme, are designed for attendees seeking a challenging and active experience.

Gonzalez went on to elaborate, "Our respected clients value us not just for the lively atmosphere our offerings create but also depend on us for safety, quality, and professional service. We consistently dedicate ourselves to maintaining excellent levels of cleanliness and strict sanitation standards across all our rental units. This sets us apart in the market and ensures we remain the preferred choice for our customers."
