May 17, 2024 -
Alexander Raymond, recognized within the Sanford Rose Associates network as one of the top financial recruiters in the United States, is thrilled to share news of its team's expansion. Rita Brannan joins as Executive Search Team Lead, marking a significant step forward in the company's mission to deliver unmatched recruitment services in Wealth Management and Trust, among other financial sectors.

Brannan brings over two decades of experience that cuts across multiple industries, enriching Alexander Raymond with her diverse skill set in leadership, operational efficiency, and exemplary customer service. This addition bolsters the company's prowess in matching elite employers with the most suitable candidates, enhancing its leadership and operational effectiveness in the financial recruitment arena.

Kevin Sailor, an influential member of Alexander Raymond, shared his positive outlook on Brannan's inclusion in the team. "We are delighted to welcome Rita to Alexander Raymond. Her wealth of experience and her astute understanding of both the challenges and opportunities within the financial recruitment sector are expected to be instrumental in our continued pursuit of excellence," Sailor remarked. He underlined the benefits that Brannan?s expertise is poised to bring, especially in addressing the intricacies of Wealth

Management and Trust sectors.

In her role as Executive Search Team Lead, Brannan will lead efforts to strengthen the firm's connections with both clients and candidates. Her aim is to refine the recruitment process, building robust, effective teams within the financial services industry. Her innovative recruitment strategies and operational improvements are set to elevate the firm?s capability to deliver client-centered, value-added services.

Upon reflecting on her new position, Brannan expressed her excitement about joining the team. "It's an honor to become a part of a firm that holds such a strong commitment to excellence and a client-centric approach in the financial recruitment industry. I look forward to leveraging my background and skills to contribute to our goal of aligning distinguished talent with leading employers, ultimately fostering growth and success for our clients," she stated.

Brannan's expertise comes at a pivotal time for Alexander Raymond as it seeks to enhance and expand its recruitment services. The firm offers specialized recruitment in areas such as Wealth Management, Trust, Private Banking, Registered Investment Advisory, Family Office, and Insurance Loss Control & Premium Audit. Her knowledge and experience are particularly valuable as the firm aims to extend its recruitment offerings, ensuring that clients have access to a broad range of highly competent candidates who can navigate the challenges of a competitive financial services environment.
