

DELETE World's Best and Brightest Talents Set to Speak at Washington DC DCEntrepreneur Business Conference MastermindX

- PRESSADVANTAGE -

Washington, DC ? Applications to attend MastermindX, brainchild of successful entrepreneur Com Mirza, are now being accepted. MastermindX is a conference targeted to inspiring and motivating business owners, or those looking to start a business. Speakers at this event include a number of successful individuals who have skills and experience to pass on to eager business professionals looking to succeed. The event, set for August 15-17, 2014, will provide attendees networking opportunities, help them identify and develop their talents, and assist students in mastering the skills necessary to increase their skills and benefits up to ten times the level they would have without attending the event.

Com Mirza, founder and host of Mastermind and MastermindX, is a successful entrepreneur. He has experienced both success and failure in his business ventures, but points out that there are lessons in every failure. He has used each experience to improve his skills, becoming more successful with each endeavor. Among Mr. Mirza's past business interests is MySpace; he held partial ownership in the online social community until it was purchased by Justin Timberlake and the Black Eyed Peas for 35 million dollars. He recently hosted Mastermind, a billionaire's conference, in Dubai. When news of the conference spread, a number of people asked him to host a similar event for aspiring business owners, at a lower cost than the $20,000.00 fee charged to those attending the Dubai event. In response to these requests, MastermindX was created.

Like Mastermind, MastermindX is a networking and motivational event with a limited audience chosen through an application process. The application process reportedly ensures that the best and brightest professionals, and aspiring professionals, are present at the event, resulting in an even more inspirational experience. MastermindX speakers focus on imparting their knowledge, successes, and failures to event attendees. Their passion is shared with everyone present, increasing the levels of achievement attendees feel they can obtain. Tickets for the event are priced at $1,997.00 and will increase in cost as the event approaches. Interested business professionals can click here to learn more.

Most recently announced, among the speakers at MastermindX will be a billionaire. He has reportedly been featured in Forbes and runs one of the world's most successful tech companies. This news has generated a great deal of excitement and is expected to affect ticket sales significantly. Applications are being submitted at a high rate, with each Entrepreneur Washington DC trying to get their chance to network with a billionaire.
