Mohegan Lake Audi, a car dealership based in Mohegan Lake, New York, has announced with excitement that they have started construction for their new Westchester Audi dealership. The project is expected to last for 12 months and will result into a dramatic renovation and improvement of their Audi facility in Westchester.

Chuck Reichl, general sales manager for Mohegan Lake Audi, says, "We plan to expand the whole service department on the western part of the property and where our loaner car fleet was parked. An under-roof service drive and reception will also be constructed by February 2020, which will mean that the Audi advisor can review the Audi car comfortably indoors no matter what the weather."

The whole project will provide a better facility for the Audi dealership with quicker service reception, high speed car wash, more parking, and more comfortable waiting areas. Some minor inconveniences will be expected but they have hired the services of full time valets to minimize bottle necks. Furthermore, the sales force will be temporarily working in modular offices with a small enclosed showroom.
