

Xtreme Exteriors Named a Top 10 Best Small Employer by Biz 417 for 2024

September 30, 2024

NIXA, MO - September 30, 2024 -
Xtreme Exteriors has been named one of the 2024 Biz 417's Best Places to Work in the "Top 10 Small Employers (15?99 employees in the United States)" category. This award highlights the company's dedication to fostering a positive, supportive, and engaging workplace. Xtreme Exteriors was formally recognized at Biz 417's Best Places to Work awards ceremony on Tuesday, September 10. Final rankings will be published in the September/October 2024 issue of Biz 417.

This honor was based on a detailed survey process managed by Best Companies Group (BCG), known for their expertise in workplace excellence research. BCG's assessment included a review of each employer's benefits, policies, and general information, along with a confidential employee survey to understand their workplace experiences and culture. This approach gives a comprehensive analysis and fair determination of the 20 best workplaces.

Starting in Nixa, Missouri, Xtreme Exteriors has made a name for itself in the Midwest. The company offers various home exterior services like James Hardie siding installation, roofing, window installations, and composite decking. Being named one of the best places to work aligns with the company's focus on quality, creative vision, and great customer service. This award underscores both the company's business success and its commitment to creating a supportive work environment for its employees.

"We are very proud to be named one of Biz 417's Best Places to Work," said Hunter Lampe, CEO of Xtreme Exteriors. "This recognition reflects our continuous efforts to foster an inclusive and supportive workplace where every team member feels valued. It's a testament to our commitment to both our employees' well-being and our dedication to delivering exceptional service to our clients."

"This acknowledgment is particularly meaningful because it is based on feedback from our own team," added Summer Lampe, Owner of Xtreme Exteriors. "Our success as a company is intrinsically linked to the happiness and satisfaction of our employees. We will continue striving to maintain a workplace culture that supports their growth and acknowledges their contributions."

The significance of this award extends beyond internal morale. Being recognized as a top employer helps Xtreme Exteriors solidify its reputation as a leading siding company springfield mo and as a great place to work. This can help attract top talent and keep current employees, both of which are important for maintaining high service standards.

Being included in Biz 417's Best Places to Work list marks a big achievement for Xtreme Exteriors in a competitive market. This highlights the company's role in boosting the region's economy and workforce. The ranking shows that even companies with fewer than 100 employees can significantly impact their employees' lives and the broader community.

Stay tuned for more updates from Xtreme Exteriors as they continue to set high standards in the home exterior industry and workplace culture. This recognition solidifies their standing among top siding contractors in the region and underscores the dedication and hard work of the entire Xtreme Exteriors team.
