October 18, 2019

October 18, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Universal Towing has recently announced the launch of its improved towing service in Fredericksburg, VA and nearby areas. The company was originally founded to provide convenient towing and roadside emergency assistance service for car owners and drivers. It has been known for its on-time response, transparent pricing policies and customer-focused service delivery. Headquartered in Fredericksburg, Universal Towing's revamped services are back in full operation since August 22, 2019.

"Car owners are frustrated by the long waiting times and lack of price transparency of traditional tow providers," says Matas Schwartz, the representative of Universal Towing. He explains, "We are offering more than a mere towing or roadside assistance; we are delivering an entirely new way to experience towing and emergency assistance backed by trusted honest pricing and quick and courteous booking platform while meeting the needs of motorists directly where they need it." The company offers long distance towing, emergency local towing, motorcycle and car towing and auto wrecker services. They also offer locksmith services, battery jumpstarts, flat tire change, and fuel delivery. A complete catalog of their services with full descriptions can be found here: <http://gmbp.in/u/5daa275833934>.

When availing the company's tow truck service, a certified towing technician arrives in a company vehicle, equipped with appropriate tools and gears to perform the various services offered by the company. If a stalled vehicle requires more complicated repair to get it working, the tow crew will haul the customer's vehicle to the nearest auto repair shop to complete the repair. Either way, the company rescues a motorist from getting stranded on the side of the road. "Our services are simple, convenient and fast. Our objective is to help a stranded driver to get going as soon as possible," says Schwartz.

Fredericksburg is one of the ideal places to live in Virginia because of its family-oriented spaces and sub-urban ambiance. Many of its residents commute to work by car to nearby areas like Washington and Richmond. People who encounter vehicular issues like mechanical breakdowns, flat tire, car lockout and the like along the road can count on the company for fast assistance. Their tow rescue team can arrive at the customer's location in and around Fredericksburg, VA within 30 minutes. The company has set up 5 strategically-positioned stations with standby towing teams around Fredericksburg to provide quick responses to customers located within their service areas. They cover neighborhoods such as Maryton, Davis Corner, Highland Homes, McCarthys Corner, Chancellorsville and Mchenry among others. A complete directory of their service areas can be accessed here: <http://gmbp.in/u/5daa28529ae06>.

Honest pricing is one of the best features of this towing company. Schwartz says, "We don't surprise our customers with our towing bill. We are completely upfront about our fees." To ensure accurate pricing quotes, a thorough inspection of the customer's vehicles is performed to assess the kind of service one needs. And once done, a customer is assured that the quote he receives is what he will only pay for.

In its commitment to deliver a new customer experience in its towing services, Universal Towing has also launched a new website. Schwartz says, "The web has taken over how our customers are looking for towing services. This website ensures that our quality towing and roadside assistance services can be easily found on the web." He adds, "Feel free to visit and look around our new website and let us know what you think." The website is regularly updated so customers can come back often to see the latest news and promotions of the company. It also provides information resources for the general driving public. He adds, "Our company is taking a long-view of the evolving customer expectations and technology requirements in the towing industry to improve our customers' service experience." The new company website is accessible here: <https://www.universaltowing.net>.
