Las Vegas, NV -- Las Vegas Dance Reviews is pleased to give the Jabbawockeez show their recommendation, encouraging all those who visit the city to do all they can to see this spectacular live show. Hosted at the MGM Grand, one of the city's premier hotels, the show features a variety of dance styles mixed with special effects. It was also voted the "Best Family Show" and "Best All Ages Show" for three years in a row.

According to the MGM Grand, "Jabbawockeez mesmerizes and entertains with its dynamic mix of awe-inspiring choreography, pulse-pounding music, and stunning special effects in their new show at MGM Grand Las Vegas. This high tech production will bring the audience up close and personal as never before with their signature white masks and intricate dance moves that have positioned the group as the world's most influential dance crew. Voted "Best Family Show" and "Best All Ages Show" for three years in a row, Jabbawockeez at MGM Grand is laugh out loud cutting edge entertainment at its best." Read Las Vegas Dance Reviews' take on the show in full at their official website.

While the show is indeed a sight to behold and audiences are highly recommended to attend, the review company cautions that there are some things they should be aware of before they make their booking. For instance, the Jabbawockeez Theater consists of a relatively small stage that the group has occupied for the past few years. However, this means that the action is effectively brought much closer to the audience of 300, whereas a larger theater may not be able to accommodate such great seating nearly as well. It also enables audiences to follow the group's routines with undivided attention, as the room itself competes with the moves on stage to a much smaller degree than certain other venues would.

Wearing their distinctive and world-famous white masks, the group is unmistakable as a whole and indistinguishable from each other as individuals—an intentional choice in costume as they prefer to erase all considerations of ethnic identity and simply allow their message to flow through their jaw-dropping dance routines. They hail from a broad variety of backgrounds: the majority of Jabbawockeez' members are Asian American (Filipino, Korean, and Vietnamese), two members are Mexican American, and one is African American. Despite this eclectic mix of backgrounds, the group is well known for their ability to seamlessly and flawlessly fuse numerous dance styles together with true gravity-defying style.

As such, reviews of the show from average audience members paint an unsurprisingly vivid picture of the group's sheer on-stage presence. For instance, one glowing 5-Star Yelp review states, "How can a dancing group who doesn't speak or have any facial expression make an entertaining 1.5 hour show? See this and you'll know how. The dancing was top-notch, but what my wife and I enjoyed more was the audience interaction. They really get everyone into the groove and they take miming to a hysterical new level!"

The review continues, "If you want to see just a dance show, then this may disappoint. If you want a variety show with dancing, humor, storytelling, audience interaction and just a good time, then Jabbawockeez is a fantastic show!"

Another 5-Star review simply says that, "We took my mother for her 78th birthday along with grandkids and family. The show was exceptional! It far exceeded our expectations. Interactive, great music, phenomenal dancing and every seat is great!"

The Jabbawockeez Theater can be found on MGM Grand casino floor near the Cashier. The group performs every Thursday to Monday at 7:00 pm and 9:30 pm. All are welcome to sit at this awe-inspiring feat of physical prowess and technical engineering.

Those who wish to learn more may reach out to Las Vegas Dance Reviews to discuss their experience sitting for the full Jabbawockeez live show at the MGM Grand. The hotel's official website also includes more information about ticket availability, pricing and even provides directions for those who are new to the area.
