Travellers can find advice on the best (and worst) international airlines for business and first class travel, airport lounges, five-star hotels, luxury cruise liners and much more. Furthermore, to ensure quality is maintained, contributors must supply travel confirmation to avoid fake luxury travel reviews.

According to a First Class Trip Reviews representative, "Simply select the category you're interested in the menu bar and search for the location/company you'd like to check. We'd also like to invite you to Write A Review, positive or negative.?

Here are two reviews from the site: ?Another great experience with Emirates. Crew services is great. I forgot a pair of glasses on the previous flight, they offered to lodge the report for me and I received a reply in a day and it's found and sent to Sydney airport in a couple of days! I lost things onboard with few airlines and reported it, nothing was found or returned. The worst is Air India, someone took my brand-new drone!?

?Singapore Airlines first class really is up there when it comes to luxury travel. It operates two different aircraft offering first class, the A380 which has deluxe suites, and the Boeing 777-300ER which offers comfortable first class seats/beds, both of which are progressively getting an overhaul.?

First Class Trip Reviews are one of the leading travel review websites in the world. Their ?Travel Critic Reviews Best Business Class Airlines And More? article was featured on both the CBS2 and Fox34 news sites.

The articles highlighted that Skytrax?s data showed that Qatar Airways was voted the world?s best business class airline. Qatar Airways? business-class seats were also named the best in the world. The airline was closely followed by Singapore Airlines, which came in second in both categories. In one of these articles, the company stated, ?Finding trustworthy advice about luxury travel isn?t always easy, but that?s why we created our website. Our review site compiles the latest consumer opinions about a host of luxury travel listings, with the aim of helping you make savvy decisions. We keep first-class and business class travellers in mind and have gathered an abundance of authentic reviews from high-end travellers. The best part is that we are an independent travel review site and have absolutely no company affiliations. That means you can rest assured that any review you read on our website is trustworthy.?
