

Local SEO Company In Perth Now Offers Powerful Free SEO Report

February 01, 2016

February 01, 2016 -
An SEO company based in West Perth, WA, Australia, has announced that they now offer a free SEO report to prospective clients. This report will highlight what the company can do for its clients and how this will benefit them. Ultimately, the goal is to make sure people are able to choose an SEO agency that is right for them.

Mitch Kono from Webitrix Media says: "Before people blindly hire an SEO expert who may disappoint them with mediocre results, we want them to learn what a realistic SEO campaign looks like and what they can expect when it is done properly. Knowing this will help them to pick the right SEO agency while minimizing the risk of getting unsatisfactory results."

Webitrix Media prides itself on being different from the regular SEO services provider. They don't believe in one size fits all packages, but treat each client as an individual, coming up with solutions that are right for them. The free SEO report, therefore, is also completely individualized. In so doing, prospective clients can see what elements of SEO could be useful for them and why.

One specific area of focus is social media marketing. People are encouraged, therefore, to like Webitrix on Facebook, where they can be kept up to date with industry news and become involved in direct conversations not just with the company but also with their peers. People are also encouraged to leave reviews and testimonials about their experiences with Webitrix, which is something that many have already done.

"I am very impressed with Mitch's work and approach," says Serge Sebastian Staub from Staub Marketing Ltd. "My website is now on the 1st page of Google within the first 4 months of the contract. I recommend his services to any business who want to be taken seriously."

For Webitrix, the focus is on realistic SEO campaigns. They do not make promises that they don't believe they can keep, nor do they tell clients they can dominate the internet overnight. Rather, they help them to develop strategies to slowly but surely achieve these results, so that they also become sustainable.
