Horst Shewmaker Expands to Augusta with New Office: A Premier Personal Injury Law Firm Dedicated to Justice

April 10, 2025

AUGUSTA, GA - April 10, 2025 -
Horst Shewmaker, a well-regarded personal injury law firm, is excited to announce its new office in Augusta, GA. This expansion is a significant milestone for the firm, reflecting their dedication to providing essential legal services to people who have been injured due to someone else's negligence. More information about their services can be found on their website, horstshewmaker.com.

For many years, Horst Shewmaker has been recognized for helping people affected by car accidents and various personal injuries, such as those documented on their site's auto accident page. This new office aims to serve the Augusta community, especially those in need of a reliable Horst Shewmaker personal injury lawyer. The experienced team is ready to assist individuals harmed by car collisions, motorcycle accidents, and other unfortunate incidents that lead to personal injury.

"As we open our doors in Augusta, we are eager to bring our experience and commitment to justice to more people," said Michael Horst, a lead attorney at the firm. "Our mission has always been to support those who can't fight for themselves, and our presence in Augusta lets us continue this mission. We're dedicated to making sure every injured person can speak up and have their rights defended."

Known for handling complex personal injury cases, the firm deals with incidents involving brain injuries, dog bites, and slip-and-fall accidents, with detailed insights available in their personal injury section. With their extensive experience, Horst Shewmaker plans to meet the unique needs of Augusta's residents, offering both time-tested and new legal solutions. This approach helps individuals secure fair compensation for their injuries and related damages.

Horst Shewmaker also provides valuable resources to the community. Their informative blogs, FAQs, and instructional videos are designed to educate the public about their legal rights and guide them through the legal process, resources that are all available on their website.

This expansion is part of Horst Shewmaker's larger effort to make comprehensive legal help available to more people across Georgia. The firm's team, made up of Michael W. Horst, Zachary S. Shewmaker, Jarrett L. Miller, and Torrie L. Dale, believes in creating personalized legal strategies while offering supportive guidance throughout a client's legal journey.

"Augusta has a rich history and vibrant culture, and we're excited to become a part of it," Horst mentioned. "We know every case is different and demands a personalized touch. This is a core belief of our practice, and we look forward to building strong, trusting relationships with our Augusta clients."

Horst Shewmaker's new location on Stevens Creek Road is ready to provide around-the-clock legal support. The firm offers a free case review for new clients, making it easier for individuals seeking legal help. The new Augusta office aims to give residents easier access to skilled attorneys who are passionate about defending their clients' rights.

This expansion aligns with Horst Shewmaker's primary goal: to deliver top-quality service while adapting to the needs of different communities, ensuring Georgians have access to the legal support they need. By opening in Augusta, they reaffirm their commitment to guiding individuals through the challenges of personal injury law and achieving justice after life-changing events.

By coming to Augusta, GA, Horst Shewmaker is not just enlarging their geographical scope but also reinforcing their dedication to supporting and uplifting those who suffer because of negligence. This expansion is an important step in ensuring that legal experts are accessible to all Georgians who need help after facing personal injury.
