Vitamins Hair Cosmetics, a renowned boutique factory, has announced that it has now made its body lotion for dry skin available to the public in the United States through Amazon. The company, based in Israel, is well known internationally for its successful range of high-quality products sold at an affordable price.

Skin problems are something that most people encounter at some time during their lives. For many people, it is very easy for their skin to get dry, tight, and uncomfortable at any time of the year, but this can be particularly problematic in winter. At this time of the year, it happens even to people with what is considered normal skin and can result in unsightly and even painful skin cracks. Many people who have tried this lotion have said that they found that it improved their skin condition as well and even better than other lotions they had tried that were more expensive.

The body lotion for dry skin is paraben, alcohol, and cruelty-free, and as well as argan oil has a number of herbal extracts that can nourish and protect skin. These include tea tree oil, sunflower seed oil, and vitamin

E. The moisturizing argan oil used in its products is hand-made as per the Moroccan ancient tradition. The lotion is designed to be absorbed quickly and not to leave a sticky residue on the skin. It can be used morning and night and some people say that it even seems to add a visible shimmer to their skin.

Already well-received on the world market, the body lotion has been well received after its initial launch in the United States. Because of this, Vitamins Hair Cosmetics has also developed an argan body oil for dry skin. This is intended for use with very dry skin and like the body lotion, it also absorbs quickly. It contains herbal tinctures and again, like the lotion, it is cruelty-free. None of the company's products have been tested on animals. The body oil and body lotions are designed to work together for optimum results according to the company.

One customer, Lila P., had been using Vitamins Hair Cosmetics' hair products for some time before she found that the body products were now available in the United States. She tried the body lotion and said, 'I've been using this for myself and for my young daughter. It moisturizes our skin without the heavy and sticky build up we got from other lotions. Because of the sensitivities that we both have we apply it several times a day. I also have rough and dry skin on my feet, and I have been using it on them too with great success. Overall, I am really pleased with it.'

Another customer, Jane L., who had read about the company online and was looking to find out more about Vitamins Hair Cosmetics' body argan oil products on Amazon said, 'I had read about the company in a blog and so I went and looked for them on Amazon. I like to buy through Amazon because it gives me the chance to read the reviews and see what other people think. The reviews were very positive and so I bought both the body lotion and the body oil. I think it is high quality and they have both worked well for me.'

Vitamins Hair Cosmetics was originally founded by Mr. Haim Shetrit in 1943. Since then the company has continued to research and develop its range of products for both hair and body. Vitamins Hair Cosmetics makes a point to ensure that all its products are cruelty-free, toxin-free, and eco-friendly. Although the company continues to respond to the demands of 21st century customers it still manufactures many of its products according to older and more traditional methods. The company believes that its mixture of old fashioned and ultramodern techniques ensures the highest possible quality product for its customers at a realistic price.
