

TantrumMobileSprayTans.com Announces Spray Tan Wellington

August 14, 2015

August 14, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

TantrumMobileSprayTans.com are the leading spray tan experts in Palm Beach County and now offer their spray tan services to the residents of Wellington FL.

Melinda Dixon, owner of Tantrum Mobile Spray Tans, says, "Our technicians have been formally trained and certified to deliver a beautiful, natural, even tan to our clientele right in the privacy of their home or at their performance venue. They don't have to drive to a salon and deal with damaging tanning bed bulbs. They don't have to hike to the beach and sit for hours under the sun's harmful UV rays any longer!"

Based on information found on their website sunbathing and or prolonged tanning bed use can cause premature aging and/or cancer of the skin, immune system suppression and even cataracts. Their proprietary solutions are a natural alternative without any harmful side effects.

The website goes on to say that they offer a relaxing experience in their clients home or office and their solutions does not leave clients with sticky or stinky skin, no orange color, and no tan lines. They offer many lines of color from golden tones to cocoa tones so they can match the clients desired color using a solution that fits each clients' particular skin tone.

"We pride ourselves on being the leading and best spray tan business in Wellington and the surrounding cities. Most of our clientele are regulars that want to keep an even, realistic looking tan year round. Others we see for special occasions like performances, weddings, important office parties, big social events etc." Says Dixon, Tantrum owner.

Most health conscious people seem to know about the harmful side effects of the sun and tanning beds so the demand for an alternative has been met by companies like Tantrum that offer a safe and affordable alternative. Their solutions are all natural and their technicians help each client feel at ease and offer a very pampered experience.

"We strive for even, natural looking results and offer our clients the best customer service. It can be intimidating to allow a stranger in your home to spray tan you. We pride ourselves on setting our clients at ease as soon as they meet us. We arrive on time, business card in hand, company uniforms are worn at all times and we leave the client with many tips to ensure their tan last as long as possible, " says Melinda, the owner.

Some of their competitors offer spray tan booths that mist you, Tantrum technicians use commercial grade spray tan guns so they can move around your body ensuring an even and natural looking tan. Having a live person spray tan the individual ensures professional level results.

"Our results are effective because our technicians have been professionally trained. Most spray tan companies do not properly train their staff. We know this is why our clients refer their friends and family to us and keep coming back as often as they do" Per Miss Dixon.
