Plumbers Edmonton, based in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, has announced their response to COVID-19 on their blog site. As an essential provider of plumbing, heating, drain-cleaning, and clean air products to various homes, they have announced that they will be taking a number of precautions during the present crisis in addition to their current practices. They will be avoiding gatherings in the office by requiring all of their technicians work from home during the present COVID-19 crisis. Nevertheless, their office will remain open daily with managers and customer care representatives on hand to help with any concerns and to answer calls and dispatch services from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm. For any after-hours calls for their services, the live answering service will be taking over during those times.

Lief Simons, President and Owner of Plumbers Edmonton, says, "We will be disinfecting all office equipment and shared spaces including having our office atomized by OENANO / Vortex. Our technicians will carry bottles of hand sanitizer and disinfectant spray to bring into a customer's home and use. Please avoid shaking hands. We will be asking callers if they have any concerns regarding Covid19 and will advise our technicians on the work orders/calls of same. They are not required to go into a home if there has been exposure to the virus. However, they will advise management if it is an emergency call so we can help that customer by taking extra precautions when in the home."

As a provider of plumbing services, Plumbers Edmonton offers mitigation, repairs, and restorations. They have developed a network of suppliers from the different kinds of trade to ensure that they can help their customers? plumbing systems up and running as quickly as possible. They will closely monitor the performance of their contractors and carefully track all costs to ensure that customers will get the best value for their money. Those who would like to know their location, office hours and other information can check them out on Google Map.

Plumbers Edmonton offers both routine maintenance services and emergency repairs. They can provide help in various emergency situations, including frozen pipes, faulty water heaters, boiler repairs, dripping faucets, leaking toilets, low water pressure, and more. They are available 24/7 for emergency services.

They would like to advise homeowners with clogged drains not to ignore the problem because it could lead to a more serious problem that would be more difficult to resolve and would be more costly to repair. Homeowners are advised to look for various signs like foul odour from the kitchen or bathroom, water draining at a very slow rate, or gurgling sounds from the drains.

Plumbers Edmonton can also provide services for hot water tanks and tankless water heaters. Homeowners are advised to call them if they notice that their utility bills have become too high or they are having problems getting enough hot water for the shower on a regular basis.

They also provide help with the water treatment requirements of homes. They can help ensure that only the highest quality water will be provided to the home for washing, bathing, cooking, cleaning, and drinking. They will offer services to ensure bottled water quality in addition to providing water softeners.
