Philadelphia, PA based Philly Diabetes Strips has introduced a new way for Philadelphia residents to get cash for their surplus diabetic supplies. They are now able to offer their services to anyone who wants to sell test strips or other unwanted diabetic glucose monitor supplies in any part of the Greater Philadelphia area. Philly Diabetes Strips has been buying diabetic supplies throughout the US since 2013. Learn more at the following link: Sell Test Strips Philadelphia.

Mike Koller, speaking on behalf of Philly Diabetes Strips, says, "Across America, many people are unsure whether it is legal for them to sell their excess supplies. Fortunately, we can give you a straight answer regarding any of the supplies you have. Just give us a call, or if you prefer, fill in our easy-to-access form online and we'll come back to you as quickly as we can. In light of the current lockdown, we ask that anyone who may have COVID-19 calls their doctor first before visiting, in line with CDC guidelines."

The company will purchase most of the major brands of test strips in 50 and 100 count boxes (with expiration dates at least 10 months from the current date). They can also purchase continuous glucose monitor supplies. A full list of the specific test strips and glucose monitor supplies they are interested in can be found on their website.

Philly Diabetes Strips is a leading buyer of diabetic supplies and can arrange for pickup in Philadelphia. They can also arrange to meet with those who are near the area. They offer the best prices for diabetic test strips and continuous glucose monitoring supplies. Payment is made in cash, which has helped many people avoid having to throw away their extra unused test strips as well as CGM sensors, transmitters and receivers.

Koller continues, "We don't buy every brand, but we can tell you if we will buy the ones you have. Instead of discarding a method of getting some money back for unused diabetic supplies, just give us a call any time of the day or night. We can offer you a cash payment if you want to sell diabetic supplies today." Learn more at the following link: Sell Diabetic Supplies Philadelphia.

The company serves to fill a void for those left wondering what to do with their excess diabetic supplies. All too often, excess supplies wind up getting thrown in the bin. Philly Diabetes Strips is the perfect answer for those who are given far too many supplies and then left stranded without a way to return them and get their money back. As long as they meet a few simple criteria, the company will arrange to buy such supplies for cash, often arranging pickup and payment on the same day.

Customers have already left rave reviews of Philly Diabetes Strips on the Google platform, giving them a perfect 5-Star review score for providing this excellent service. For instance, repeat customer Rob Atkins shares that, "Whenever I get sent too many test strips for me to use, I immediately give a call to Mike. He is prompt, courteous and always pays the best prices for the extra supplies I have when I have them."

Another reviewer, Shawwna Maroney, highlights why Philly Diabetes Strips has been so successful. In her own 5-Star review, they say, "The owner of this place is a really great guy! He comes right out to you and pays you right then. He also works with you if you need him to come at a certain time. He's very kind and professional! I definitely recommend calling him instead of sending your supplies in and waiting for your money or driving somewhere! It's so much easier!"

Koller concludes, "We really want to thank all the customers who have taken the time out of their day to give us their honest feedback. We will do our best to get to you quickly to pick up your supplies and offer the best prices. We will also do our utmost to ensure that we protect those in your household as well as our own staff when we come to pick up your supplies. You will also be paid in cash, so we recommend that you take the same precautions for the cash as you would for anything else you bring into your home during the lockdown."

Those who want cash for diabetic test strips may call the company directly from their website to follow up on any inquiries or use the included contact form to specify the products they wish to sell.
