White Oak Landscape Offers Custom Water Features Transforms Properties

White Oak Landscape, a trusted provider of professional landscaping and design services, is introducing a new range of custom water features for homeowners and businesses throughout Georgia. This offering includes fountains, ponds, waterfalls, and water gardens, all tailored to bring balance, beauty, and functionality to outdoor spaces.

Property owners often want a backyard or garden that feels complete but struggle to create a focal point that connects the lawn, plants, and landscape together. The addition of a water fountain, koi pond, or waterfall can transform a yard into a welcoming oasis.

White Oak Landscape water feature designs and installs not only look elegant but also provide the calming sound of streams, brooks, and flowing water. Each project is customized to fit the type of property, whether it is a residential backyard or a commercial pool and courtyard.

Water features provide significant value for commercial properties. Office complexes, retail centers, hospitality venues, and community spaces can benefit from the addition of fountains, ponds, waterfalls, and waterwalls that create striking focal points and welcoming environments.

These features enhance the appearance of high-traffic areas, complement surrounding landscaping, and introduce the calming sound of moving water, which helps reduce background noise from busy streets. By incorporating custom-designed water elements into commercial spaces, White Oak Landscape helps businesses create inviting atmospheres that leave a lasting impression on clients, visitors, and employees.

?Commercial clients are always looking for ways to make their properties stand out,? said Rocky DeVotie, owner at White Oak Landscape. ?A well-designed water feature not only enhances the appearance of the property but also creates a more enjoyable experience for everyone who visits or works there.?

The company?s portfolio of water features covers a wide variety of designs. Garden fountains add structure and movement to landscaped areas, while koi ponds and waterwalls serve as natural gathering spots for both people and wildlife. Rock and stone elements are often incorporated into ponds and streams, creating texture and durability. Larger installations, such as lap pools, splash pads, and decorative waterwalls, expand the possibilities for businesses and communities looking for functional and creative ideas. Rain gardens and bird baths are also available for clients who want eco-friendly features that support water conservation and attract pollinators and local birds.

White Oak Landscape not only specializes in the design and installation of these features but also provides complete maintenance programs. Their team ensures that ponds, fountains, waterfalls, and water gardens remain clear, functional, and safe year-round. Services include seasonal cleaning, pump inspection, stone and rock adjustments, and plant care, giving property owners a low-maintenance solution that keeps water features looking their best.

?Our professional team oversees every part of the process, from initial design ideas to final installation and ongoing care,? DeVotie added. ?Clients can enjoy their water features without worrying about maintenance or upkeep.?

By offering a wide range of options from small fountains that accent a garden to full-scale backyard streams, brooks, and commercial fountains White Oak Landscape ensures that every property can benefit from a unique water feature that serves as a focal point. These elements bring together stone, plants, and lawn areas in a way that enhances property value while also creating a space of peace and relaxation.
